Frondizi Apparently Yields

Basic Accord On Steel Pact Reported

Contract Said To Provide No Pay Increase

Union Committees Which Must Ratify Agreement Called

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Negotiators reportedly reached basic agreement Wednesday on a new, two-year steel industry labor contract on terms described as consistent with President Kennedy's call for continued wage-price stability.

Chief bargainers for the major steel companies and the United Steelworkers Union were said by reliable Washington sources to have reached their agreement about midday subject to ratification by union committees that were called into session in Pittsburgh Saturday and Sunday.

The pact is said to call for around 10 cents an hour in improvements in vacation, pension and supplemental unemployment benefits—but without an immediate pay increase. The 430,000 industry workers presently earn an average $3.28 an hour.

Reopening Provision

Provision is made for reopening the contract for wage increase negotiations at the end of the contract's first year.

R. Conrad Cooper of the U.S. Steel, chief industry negotiator, indicated that a general agreement had been reached. He said, however, there had been no formal settlement and that much negotiating work remained to be done.

President Kennedy's call for an early settlement—without a strike and one consistent with maintaining wage-price stability and confined to the scope of productivity increases—appears to have been met.

It was indicated that the vacation provisions may contain some surprises. The union has been calling for several months paid sabbatical leaves periodically for long-service employes.

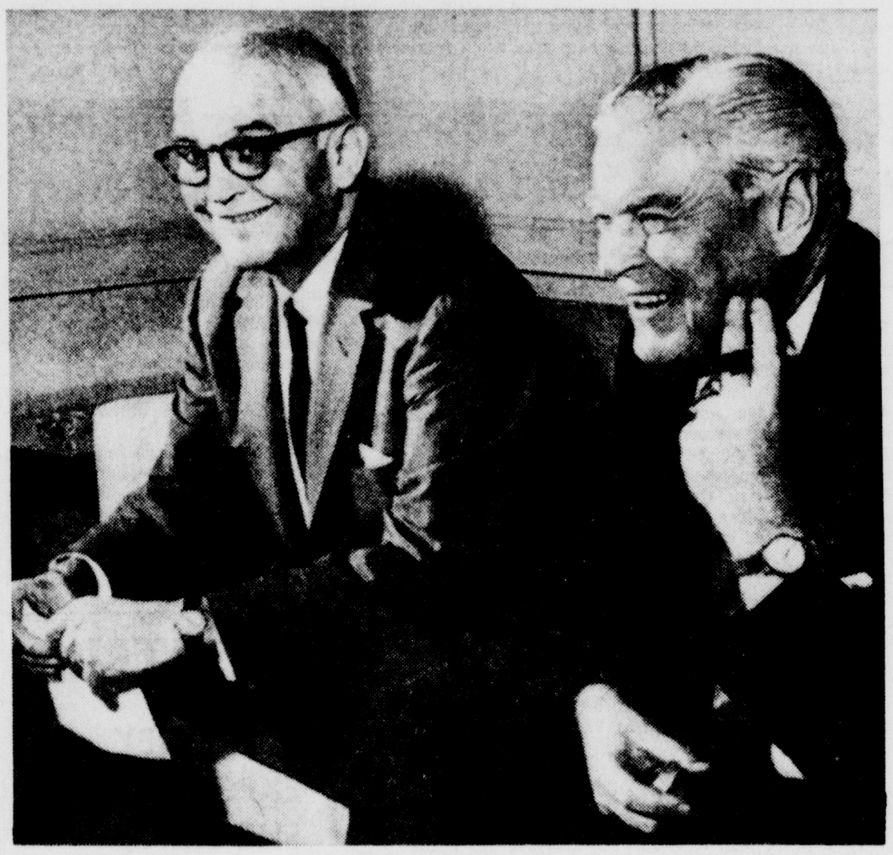
Pacts Expire June 30

The reported agreement was reached three months ahead of the June 30 expiration dates of existing pacts.

In Washington, the White House said the President had been informed of the reports but that he would have no comment for the time being.

The union's International Executive Board is to meet Saturday morning and the International Wage Policy Committee will gather an hour later. The union's 11 company negotiating committees will meet on Sunday.

By union law, the Wage Policy Committee must vote on whether or not to accept contract proposals.



Smiles From Both Sides

McDonald of the United Steelworkers, flash smiles during a news conference yesterday on negotiations for a new labor contract. Syrian Army Takes Power In New Coup

Military Cites Land Reform Reversals, Pork Barrel Tactics

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—Land reform reversals, pork barrel tactics and infiltration of the government by imperialist agents forced the coup that has placed Syria under military rule for the second time in six months, the army said Wednesday night.

There was a hint that at least some members of President Nazem el Koudsi's conservative regime, deposed early Wednesday in an uprising that Radio Damascus called bloodless, were under arrest.

The high command said executives and conspirators responsible for "the deviation from the Sept. 28 uprising's objectives and aspirations" were being referred to trial.

Frontiers Closed

Syria's five million people were warned to remain calm, that force would be used to crush any disturbance. Frontiers were sealed. A 10 p.m.-5 a.m. curfew was clamped on the country. Telephone communications were cut.

The high command orders streamed out by radio in much the same fashion as those issued when a revolt by the armed forces severed Syrian ties with President Nasser's United Arab Republic last September. Martial music filled in the gaps.

The high command reiterated that its objectives include "the establishment of constructive Arab socialism" at home, and, in foreign affairs, positive neutrality and nonalignment combined with Arab unity on a clear basis, "especially with beloved Egypt and brotherly Iraq."

Parliament Dissolved

Koudsi, 55, a moderate rightist inaugurated last Dec. 14, managed to serve out little more than three months of his five-year term. A former premier who served in 1944 as Syrian ambassador to Washington, he was ousted along with the cabinet headed by Premier Marouf Dawalibi.

The 17-man Constituent Assembly (parliament) elected Dec. 1 was dissolved. It had been dominated by conservatives generally opposed to socialist measures instituted when Syria was a part of the UAR.

Child Found Slain

The strangled body of 6-year-old Carol McAllister (left) was found yesterday in a burlap bag about 4 blocks from her home in Hollis, a Queens community on Long Island, New York. Police said a former mental patient, John Goeniger (right), 35, admitted killing her. A police search for the child was started after she disappeared from in front of her home Tuesday night. Government Seat Seized By Military

Argentine President At Suburban Home; Aide Says 'All Over'

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Argentine armed forces seized the seat of government Wednesday night in a showdown with President Arturo Frondizi and early Thursday a presidential aide declared "All is over."

It was an apparent admission that the 4-year-old Frondizi regime, after rebuffing military pressures for 11 tense days, was finally conceding defeat.

Combat troops armed with machine guns maintained control of Government House. Frondizi, who hours before had rejected the military chiefs' personally delivered ultimatum to resign, remained at his suburban residence outside of the capital.

The rebellious military chiefs were reported conferring on the makeup of a new ruling government junta and only this last detail appeared to be delaying an unconfined coup d'etat.

Army and navy units were in control of all major strategic centers throughout the nation.

Defiant To The End

As the president and the nation waited for the next move in the long crisis, Raul Garcion, Frondizi's personal aide, told newsmen:

"The situation is at an end. The armed forces are in agreement with each other. All is over."

Defiant to the end, Frondizi reportedly refused to bow to the threat of a military coup and turned away the ultimatum delivered at his office by Argentina's top military chiefs.

Wednesday nightafter his final refusal to resign, infantrymen armed with machine guns moved in and took control of his offices.

The president strode grim and and tight-lipped from his office, and motored to his suburban home with an aide who held a drawn pistol ready. He set up home headquarters for consultations with still loyal followers.

The soldiers, garbed in combat fatigues, took over Government House without a fight as they rolled up with submachine guns and sidearms at the ready.

Frondizi Drives To Home

Frondizi had driven from his "Pink House" office to his suburban home two hours earlier as swiftly moving events surged toward a climax.

A spokesman for the presidential press office confirmed that Government House is "now under the custody of the 3rd Infantry Regiment."

The movement of troops into strategic positions throughout the city was regarded as the obvious prelude to installation of a military junta.

The commanders of the army, navy and air force maneuvered rapidly after Frondizi curtly rejected their 11th hour ultimatum to resign voluntarily.

Combat ready troops earlier in the day had occupied strategically sensitive points in this tense capital and in provincial cities, including communications centers, radio stations, telephone exchanges and other nerve centers.

Troops also were spotted moving along the dimly lit streets of Buenos Aires, moving into position for the final stroke against Frondizi.

At the same time Government House fell under military control, the 3rd Cavalry Division commander, Gen. Franklin Rawson—a rabid anti-Peronist—had set a time limit of eight hours "for the situation to resolve itself."

House Demos Stop Republicans' Drive To Revise Tax Bill

GOP Will Try To Recommit Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Democrats stopped a Republican drive Wednesday against interest and dividend withholding and other tax changes sought by President Kennedy.

The action came at the beginning of debate on a complex revenue revision bill that also includes a billion-dollar tax incentive to businesses to buy modern equipment. The House defeated, 224 to 184, a motion to open it up for GOP-backed amendments.

Republicans voted solidly for the motion, without a single defection, and picked up 20 scattered Democratic votes.

The Republicans have another chance under possibly more favorable conditions. They have announced they will try, at the end of debate Thursday, to send the measure back to the Ways and Means Committee for modification.

Proponents and opponents agreed that its chances were materially improved by some last-minute changes scaling down the tax loss that would result from allowing businesses to deduct part of their investment in new equipment.

With these changes, and anticipating a stimulation of the economy from the equipment outlays, administration forces contend the bill would balance revenue losses against gains. Republicans contest this claim, saying that especially next year, when Kennedy hopes for a closely balanced budget, the tax changes will produce a big deficit.

The bill would allow deductions from taxes of as much as 7 per cent of the amount spent on productive equipment.

The bill also includes higher taxes on savings and loan associations and mutual savings banks, tighter treatment of some foreign income of U.S.-owned companies, stricter rules on business expense account deductions and many other changes.

The Republicans sought to eliminate the new withholding provision, substitute a different kind of business incentive plan involving speeded up depreciation and special handling of inventory allowances, and a different set of rules on some categories of foreign income.

Army Deserter Held As Spy Will Get Mental Test

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — George John Gessner, charged with giving nuclear secrets to Russia, was committed Wednesday for mental examination.

The gangling Army deserter, 25, was ordered to the U.S. medical center at Springfield, Mo., for 60 days by U.S. Dist. Judge Arthur J. Stanley.

"There has been a history of mental illness in the Gessner family," defense attorney Ernest Rice of Topeka said. He added that Gessner's father was admitted to a mental institution last May and young Gessner suffered a head injury a few years ago.

The specific charge against Gessner is that he violated the Atomic Energy Act by giving restricted information to a Soviet agent. If convicted, he could be sentenced to death.

The FBI said he deserted Dec. 7, 1960, from Ft. Bliss, Tex., where he was a nuclear weapons maintenance specialist. He was arrested in Panama for failure to have proper registration papers and returned to this country.

"Gessner has admitted to Army authorities being in Mexico Dec. 7-22, 1960, and Jan. 3-13, 1961, during which periods he visited the Soviet Embassy, Mexico City, and furnished to Soviet officials much highly sensitive information of restricted nature," the FBI said.

Hundreds Fight Raging Rivers In Middle West

By The Associated Press

Flood battlers threw up sandbag barricades against the icy waters of swollen rivers in the Midwest Wednesday.

The flooding was caused by a rapid runoff of melted snow.

A dike broke and flood waters of the Northfork River poured into Norfolk, Neb. Residents were directed to get out of 30 blocks in the northeastern section of the city of 13,000.

The water surged to within two blocks of Norfolk's business district. A railroad right-of-way blocked the flow and 300 men set to work sandbagging the tracks.

A hundred families were ordered evacuated in Sioux City, Iowa, and an embargo was placed on shipments of livestock to the market there.

The Weather Bureau warned of severe lowland flooding along the Floyd River in northwestern Iowa through Thursday. It urged emergency action to protect residents and property near the levees.

Several factories along the river dismissed their workers. Several roads in the Sioux City area were under water. The Floyd was expected to crest at 17 feet — 7 feet more than bankful — Thursday morning in James, just north of Sioux City.

A washout derailed a Milwaukee Road freight train near Luton in Woodbury County, Iowa. The engineer drowned, and two members of the crew were injured.

The Iowa National Guard ordered an additional 125 men from other towns to Sioux City, where 450 already were on duty.

About 100 Wyoming National Guardsmen were called out Tuesday when Bitter Creek went out of its banks in Rock Springs. The troops aided in evacuating some residents and placing sandbags.

Eddie Fisher In Mental Hospital, Newspaper Says

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Daily News reported Wednesday night that singer Eddie Fisher had suffered a nervous breakdown. The singer's manager said he was in a hospital but "there's nothing mentally wrong with him."

The copyrighted Daily News report said Fisher "is a patient behind locked doors in a private midtown psychiatric hospital."

Milton Blackstone, Fisher's manager, said the singer entered a hospital "for rest and relaxation" and is scheduled to leave it Friday.

Secret Army Vows Revenge

ALGIERS (AP)—The rightist Secret Army vowed vengeance Wednesday against Moslem soldiers of the French army who fired on a crowd of European demonstrations Monday. In all, 53 persons perished.

As an uneasy quiet descended over the rebellious city, the Secret Army distributed tracts in French and Arabic assailing the Moslem soldiers and warning: "All our armed operations henceforth will be acts of justice...nothing and no one will stop us."

The French army said most of Monday's deaths came when weary, nervous Moslem troops, surrounded by hostile crowds, were fired on first by Secret Army snipers. The Secret Army had called for the demonstrations in its drive to block independence for Algeria.

Officials said it appeared some of the Moslem soldiers panicked and fired their automatic weapons blindly after being insulted and threatened by the crowd.

Reds Campaign For Atom-Free Europe Zones

GENEVA (AP)—The Soviet Union marshaled its Communist allies Wednesday in a diplomatic drive to get nuclear-free zones established in Europe and thereby blunt NATO's defensive capability.

Western sources said the proposals in the 17-nation disarmament conference were aimed at West Germany, Greece and Turkey, key members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization bordering the Iron Curtain.

The United States cold-shouldered the suggestions. But the atom - free zone concept drew some nods of approval from among delegates of the eight middle group nations at the table and exprssions of support from two of them—India and Ethiopia.

Polish Foreign Minister Adam Rapacki and Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin urged the conference to adopt the Communist measures on a speedy basis.

Brushing this aside, U.S. Ambassador Arthur H. Dean called instead for quick agreement on measures to halt the production of nuclear arms and to reduce the possibility of war by surprise attack or accident.

Subsequently, the conference instructed Dean and Zorin, as co-chairmen, to agree on a first-things, first-work program.

Communist delegates, acting with considerable teamwork, advanced two related ideas on atom-free zones.

The first was a modernized version of Rapacki's five-year-old plan to eliminate "nuclear weapons and nuclear delivery vehicles" in Poland, Czechoslovakia and East and West Germany.

The second idea was advanced by Romanian Foreign Minister Corneliu Manescu with the blessing of Zorin and Rapacki. He proposed a nuclear-free zone in southeast Europe, where the defensive capabilities of Greece and Turkey are involved.

Rusk Reports To President

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk reported to President Kennedy and the National Security Council Wednesday on the Geneva conference, presumably delving into the problem of new Berlin talks with Russia.

The conferences came as the government moved forward with Rusk's proposal for a "zonal inspection" system in any disarmament agreement growing out of the current Geneva sessions. A $125,000 contract was awarded a private firm to work on details of the plan.

Rusk, who returned from Geneva Tuesday night, conferred with the President and both then attended a meeting of the Security Council. While subjects under discussion were not announced, the talks were believed to have dealt in part with resumption of Berlin discussions.

Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko agreed at Geneva to resume contacts on Berlin "in an appropriate way" after reporting to their governments and consulting with their allies. American officials did not say how or when the talks might be resumed.

Cuban Airliner Crash Kills 22

SANTIAGO, Cuba (UPI) — A Russian - built Cubana Airlines transport crashed into the sea off Santiago's Morrow Castle Tuesday night. All 22 persons aboard, including 13 women, were killed.

A huge oil slick was the only trace of the crashed plane, a twin-engine Ilyushin-14. Searchers reported neither bodies nor wreckage.

The crash came only a few seconds after the plane took off for Havana, via Camaguey. Four bathers at a nearby beach resort saw the plane plunge into the sea and notified authorities.

Airline sources said veteran pilot Tito Salgarella reported engine trouble to the control tower before the crash. The four witnesses said the plane appeared to be banking for a return to the airport when it fell.

Doctors' Group To Push JFK's Health Care Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Twenty-seven physicians formed a voluntary committee Wednesday to rally doctors behind President Kennedy's plan for health care for the aged under Social Security.

While they were at it, the doctors also took some healthy swipes at the American Medical Association, major foe of the Kennedy plan.

Most of the doctors are AMA members, but not all, and the extent of physician nonsupport of the AMA was cited by Dr. Caldwell B. Esselstyn, medical director of the Rip Van Winkle Clinic at Hudson, N.Y., and president of the group Health Association of America.

He challenged what he said was the AMA's claim that only a few doctors supported a medical care for the aged program tied to Social Security.

Esselstyn said about 8,000 of the 26,000 physicians in New York State do not belong to the AMA, although all are members of state and county medical socieities.

Prime objective of the new group — named the Physicians Committee for Health Care for the Aged Through Social Security — will be to enlist these "many thousands" of physicians behind the Kennedy plan, Esselstyn said.

Another major purpose, he said, will be to inform doctors about what the legislation actually would do.

Esselstyn predicted this information program would effectively counter AMA claims that the program would restrict the free choice of doctors by patients and lead eventually to socialized medicine.

NASA Calls For Bids On Huge Nova Rocket

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP)—The civilian space agency called for bids from private industry Wednesday, including the Martin Marietta Corp., on the Nova rocket—a huge spacecraft to give man a direct flight to the moon.

In calling for the bids, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said Nova's first test flight is expected to take place in the 1966-67 period.

A spokesman at Martin said the firm ". . . was working very hard to get the contract for its Space Systems Division at Middle River."

The Nova, a three-stage rocket 45 to 50 feet in diameter and 300 feet long, will be capable for putting more than 200 tons of payload in orbit around the earth or sending more than 75 tons out of the earth's atmosphere.

Israel Closes Case Against Eichmann

JERUSALEM (UPI) — Israel closed its case against Adolf Eichmann Wednesday by demanding the supreme court reject the former Nazi officer's appeal from a death sentence.

"There is no fitting punishment for a man who has caused the slaughter of a third of nation and a million children," Israeli Atty. Gen. Gideon Hausner said in closing his three-day presention. The courtroom was nearly empty.

Jackie Describes Lunch With Queen As 'Exciting'

LONDON (UPI) — Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy had an "exciting" lunch with Queen Elizabeth at Buckingham Palace Wednesday and drew cheers and admiring whistles from London crowds as she made a surprise shopping tour of antique shops.

Vividly attractive for the palace luncheon in a suit of cherry red wool and a mink hat, America's First Lady brightened the capital on a day in which thin sunshine faded into a cheerless drizzle.

A national newspaper, the Evening Standard, published a photograph of her that ran the entire length of the front page. One critic, after watching Mrs. Kennedy on television, said he was almost "ashamed" the British had burned down the White House in 1814.

Everywhere the First Lady went crowds quickly gathered. It was a personal triumph that brought to a fitting end her three-week travels to Rome, India and Pakistan. A mother was overheard telling her little girl: "We're waiting for Mrs. Queen of America."

The luncheon was the high point of Mrs. Kennedy's three-day London stay and after 90 minutes of chatting with the Queen about the things they have in common—from busy husbands and growing children to fast horses—she left the palace obviously delighted it had been a success.

"Her Majesty was so gracious to invite me to lunch," Mrs. Kennedy said. "I don't know what to say. It was a wonderful lunch."

U.S. Warns Israel Against Reprisals

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — The United States Wednesday warned Israel against reprisals in its border fighting with Syria and recalled that such a policy preceded the short - lived Suez war in 1956.

U. S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson proposed that the Security Council summon Maj. Gen. Carl Carlsson Von Horn of Sweden, chief of the U.N. Palestine truce supervision organization, for a full report on Israeli - Syrian clashes at the Sea of Galilee in mid-March.

But Acting Secretary General Thant opposed Stevenson's proposal, telling the council that Von Horn had already reported all the facts available on the Galilee (Lake Tiberias) fighting.

Senate Probers Say Organized Gambling Profits "Staggering"

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate investigation subcommittee urged a multifront attack Wednesday on organized gambling, which it said may provide the underworld with "staggering" profits from enterprises grossing more than $50 billion a year.

The subcommittee, headed by Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., said in its report to the Senate that gambling profits are used to bankroll other criminal activities, including millions of dollars each year to corrupt police and prosecutors.

The report added:

"Of particular concern to the U.S. Congress has been the apparent failure of law enforcement to keep pace with the growth of organized crime in the United States."

McClellan, in filing the report, said the subcommittee's hearings proved the underworld reaped a harvest of illegal profits from gambling, much of it crooked, that may involve wagers totaling more than $50 billion annually.

He noted total U.S. government revenues from all sources in the 1963 fiscal year are expected to total about $93 billion, with the new budget alloting $52 billion for defense.

The report urged new laws to legalize wiretapping by police, make the corruption of athletes a federal crime, tighten existing laws against use of telephones to transmit betting information and crack down on dissemination of information from race tracks.

Court Orders Change In S&L Management

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Circuit Court took a new approach to the building and loan problem Wednesday when it issued an order authorizing new management to take over the Baltimore Mutual Savings and Loan Association.

The order, signed by Judge Rueben Opperheimer, was the first of its kind issued in Baltimore since the state assumed regulatory powers over the building and loan business last June.

It approves the election of six new directors who will manage the firm under the supervision of Albert W. Ward, administrator of the regulatory law, and the court.

The order also prohibits any further withdrawals from the association and enjoins the new directors from paying out any funds without a court order or Ward's consent.

An attorney for one of the directors said the association has some $2,500,000 in deposits and about 2,000 accounts.

Urgent Tag Put On Gold-Dollar Drain By JFK

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy pinned an "urgent" tag Wednesday on the U.S. gold-dollar problem and said all citizens must help solve it by making American industry more competitive.

Kennedy sent Congress a 29-page report in which Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon said efforts to erase the country's balance of payments deficit—the key to the difficulty—are "still far from our target."

Dillon's report, endorsed by the President, emphasized "the need for business and labor to exert conscious restraint in shaping wage and price policies."

The secretary described this as compelling "above all else."

The administration has been encouraging stability in prices of manufactured goods as a means of promoting exports—the likeliest way of eliminating the bal- of payments problem.

In this connection, Kennedy announced he would adopt a key Dillon recommendation that the Commerce Department be given "a new top-level official to oversee and expedite all our varied efforts to penetrate foreign markets more deeply."

Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, indicated an appointment would be announced this week.

The balance of payments deficit represents the difference between the amount Americans spend, lend, invest and give away abroad each year and the lesser amount of income received from foreign sources.

Dillon noted the deficit dropped to under $2.5 billion last year from a record $3.9 billion in 1960, but said the end of deficits is not in sight. He said "palliatives" helped last year, but more emphasis must be placed on cures which "can be neither simple nor painless."

Paris Bombings Are Renewed By Terrorists

PARIS (UPI)—The underground Secret Army Organization on Wednesday night exploded a new series of plastic bombs in Paris in a terror campaign against supporters of the government.

Five bombs exploded in the capital in quick succession a few minutes after 9 p.m. One person, an apartment house superintendent, was reported injured. Police attributed the bombings to the OAS.

Earlier Wednesday French Algerian Affairs Minister Louis Joxe conferred with the moderate Algerian Nationalist leader who will head the provisional regime in Algeria until the referendum which will decide the future status of Algeria.

Abderrahamne Fares, 51, the Moslem lawyer who was released from a French jail five days ago to head the Provisional Executive, arrived in Paris after conferences with the leaders of the National Liberation Front (FLN).

The French government, meantime, pushed the all-out drive against the Secret Army Organization (OAS) in the effort to end the reign of terrorism and bloodshed in the violence-wracked territory.

President Charles de Gaulle had ordered French troops to crush the OAS "without pity." On Monday, French troops fired into a crowd of OAS sympathizers in Algiers, killing nearly 60 persons and wounding at least 200. OAS activities since have been confined mainly to scattered small-scale terrorist attacks.

Jet Shock Waves Hitting Earth Create Sonic Boom

By JOHN BARBOUR
Associated Press Science Writer

A jet bomber streaks from coast to coast—faster than the sound of a human voice or the roar of a monstrous engine can travel.

It leaves some of us in its earthly path, shaken by its wake of air, like rowboats tossed by the furious wake of a speedboat.

In fact, this is exactly what happens: A powerful shock wave of air created by the bow of the jet plane spreads out in a cone—and part of it eventually crashes into the earth below.

Recently a B58 Hustler bomber—blazing a new cross country speed record—left a trail of bewildered humans, and broken windows in its wake.

As jet planes become faster and more numerous, this will occur more often, experts warn.

What happens is fairly simple.

Sound travels in waves—bands of pressure and bands of relaxed pressure in the air. Again it is like the bow waves moving from the front of the boat. There is a wave, or a hill of water, followed by a trough or valley of less water.

It is the way that energy—like the wallop of the jet plane's speed—travels through air or water. If you could look at the individual air particles or molecules, you could see that they pass on this energy one to the other.

A jet plane, moving faster than sound (generally faster than some 750 miles an hour), is faster than the individual air molecules can move. These little atomic packages of air can't get out of the way of the speeding plane fast enough.

So they pile up like water at the front of a boat. But the plane gives them a wallop too, and they pass this wallop on to their neighbors and so on.

Then these waves of energy or sound trail off around the airplane.

The shock wave in front of a plane forms a cone, and the waves radiate out in all directions—as they do when you drop a pebble in a quiet pool. But most of the waves spend themselves in distance or in space. Only the earth below gets their impact.

Satellite Stock Differences Compromised

WASHINGTON (AP)—The public would be allowed to buy half ownership of a proposed new communications satellite corporation under legislation approved Wednesday by the Senate Space Committee.

The other half would be sold to companies already in the communications business.

The bill was a down-the-middle split of differences between President Kennedy's request for full public ownership and an all-company ownership proposal by Sen. Robert S. Kerr, D-Okla.

Kerr told newsmen he was satisfied with the compromise, but he didn't know about the White House.

The bill, which now goes to the Senate Commerce Committee, sets the value of the stock to be sold by the new corporation at a $100 a share instead of the $1,000 proposed by Kennedy.

However, it also allows the issurance of an unlimited number of shares. The administration proposed a limit of 1 million shares, for a total of $1 billion in stock.

The new corporation will develop and operate a global communications system using satellites as relay stations in space. Telephone and telegraph messages and eventually television programs would be bounced off the satellites to any country in the world.

Soviets, Despite Sneers, Have Fallout Shelters

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Dr. Leon Goure stood in a basement fallout shelter Tuesday and announced there are fallout shelters in Russia, too, despite what Nikita Khrushchev claims.

Goure, a Moscow-born Frenchman, said Russia has been developing a civil defense program since 1949 but it is based on the theory that there would be no surprise attack.

Russians, like Americans, are rather apathetic about the program, but they are required to undergo civil defense training, he said.

Goure is a senior staff member of the social sciences department of the Rand Corp., Santa Monica, Calif., who recently went to Russia and studied more than 100 Soviet civil defense publications.

He made his comments at a news conference preceding a luncheon address before the American Chemical Society. The conference was held in the fallout shelter in the basement of the society's national headquarters.

Soviet officials have sneered at U.S. civil defense and said Russians would never be frightened underground.

Goure said the Russian program is based on ample warning of attack—"at least three days." This, he said, showed they fear no surprise or unprovoked attack.

The program calls for distribution of gas masks, evacuation of certain areas and clearly designated shelters, he said.

The Russian shelters, he said, were apparently designed on a permanent basis, and would provide protection against chemical and biological warfare as well as nuclear fallout and, to some degree, nuclear blast.

Goure estimated that somewhat less than half the Russian urban population of 100 million has shelters available. The shelter program, he said, emphasizes construction in industrial and government buildings, thus making many shelters unavailable to the general public.

Death toll from U.S. accidents in 1960 was about 93,000, or 1 per cent higher than 1959, according to Encyclopedia Britannica.

Air Pollution 'War' Proposed

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A prize-winning chemist Tuesday proposed a national institute to "protect life's most basic commodity" by combatting pollution of the air.

The chemist, Dr. Eugene J. Houdry, asserted that auto exhausts and industrial fumes have produced lung cancers in laboratory animals. He said statistical studies indicate such pollutants could be responsible for what he called the 20th Century's epidemic increase in lung cancer.

Houdry is chairman of the board of Oxy-Catalyst, Inc., Berwin, Pa., and developer of the Houdry cracking process for refining petroleum. He received the American Chemical Society's $1,000 award in industrial and engineering chemistry sponsored by the Esso Research and Engineering Co., Linden, N.J.

In an address, read for him by Gordon P. Larson, executive vice president of his firm, Houdry called for a concentrated effort to develop agents capable of removing dangerous substances from exhausts and fumes.

Court Moves Would Force Redistricting

By The Associated Press

A Supreme Court ruling in a Tennessee reapportionment case became the lever Wednesday for two separate court actions in Maryland seeking to force the state legislature into redistricting its seats.

In Annapolis, the Maryland Committee for Fair Representation asked the Maryland Court of Appeals to apply the high court ruling to its suit pending in state courts since 1960 to gain more seats for metropolitan counties.

In Baltimore, the House and Senate majority leaders of the legislature filed suit in U.S. District Court asking that the legislature be compelled by federal court order to reapportion itself next year in light of the Supreme Court ruling.

A reapportionment bill which would have redistributed the 123 House seats and placed the matter before Maryland voters this fall failed by two votes in the Senate at the recent 30-day legislative session, after having passed the House.

The Supreme Court opened the door last Monday to court action which could force malapportioned legislatures to revise their make-up to more nearly reflect population.

In a federal court case from Nashville, it held that residents of metropolitan areas had a right to maintain their suit seeking relief in a legislature which had refused since 1901 to reapportion itself. The case was sent back for argument on its merits in the court which had refused to hear it.

The issue involves the 14th Amendment to the constitution which guarantees equal protection of the law to all citizens. Metropolitan residents claim their voting rights are diluted in a legislature where small counties hold a majority of seats out of proportion to their population.

The suit filed in Baltimore by Sen. James A. Pine and Del. A. Gordon Boone, both Baltimore County Democrats and majority floor leaders of the two houses, places the matter in federal courts in addition to state courts.

They name the General Assembly as defendant, ask that its make-up be declared unconstitutional and that it be directed to reapportion the House on a population basis at its 1963 session. Both are from a county which would benefit the most from a reapportionment based on population.

Their petition contends they are "denied the equal protection of the laws accorded them by the 14th Amendment."

The suit which has been in state litigation since August, 1960, also alleges violation of the 14th Amendment.

But unlike the Baltimore suit, it does not ask a direct mandate against the legislature. It seeks an injunction to prohibit the State Board of Canvassers from certifying any legislators elected in 1962, unless chosen on an at-large basis, until the legislature reapportions itself.

Alfred L. Scanlan, chief counsel for the Maryland citizens group which filed the suit, said he doesn't think the Baltimore federal court action can stand because of legal procedures. He said courts cannot directly order the legislature to do anything.

He asked in a supplementary motion that the Court of Appeals, which has the committee's suit under study, apply the Supreme Court Tennessee ruling to their case. Anne Arundel County Circuit Court had dismissed the suit on grounds courts lacked jurisdiction in the matter.

"The constitutional principles involved in both cases are the same," Scanlan said in his written motion to the court, which is now in recess until April 9.

"If the supreme court decision . . . is the law of the land in Tennessee, it is also the law of the land in Maryland. The decision in that case must control the disposition of this case. The 14th Amendment assays no more or no less in any one state in the union."

The Maryland attorney general in arguments before the state court last Dec. 12 contended that the two cases are different. He noted that the Tennessee legislature is required by its constitution to reapportion every 10 years, whereas Maryland is not.

"The fact that the gross malapportionment complained of in the Tennessee case might also constitute a violation of the Tennessee constitution does not serve to differeniate the two cases," Scanlan said. "It is elementary that a violation of state law neither makes nod mars a violation of the federal constitution."

Study Set On Tension Link To Disease

BALTIMORE (AP) — A study of whether today's fast pace of living contributes to high blood pressure and heart disease in humans will be based on a Russian scientist's famous experiments with dogs.

The Johns Hopkins Pavlovian Laboratory announced Wednesday that a nine-man research team will seek to confirm a suspicion that the tensions of daily life make some people more susceptible to heart disease.

The laboratory is named for Ivan Pavlov, the Russian whose classic experiment on conditioned reflexes with dogs is a textbook standard.

Pavlov would ring a bell every time he gave food to a dog. Eventually, the dog would secret saliva and generate gastric juices every time the bell was rung.

Scientists describe this as neurotic behavior. The Johns Hopkins researchers will create different type of neuroses to study their biological effects such as heart action and blood flow.

Dr. W. Horsley Gantt, director of the Pavlovian Laboratory, was a pioneer in discovering that every conditioned reflex is accompanied by circulatory blood reactions.

Dr. Gantt was a student of pavlov for seven years and is one of only five still living.

The Pavlovian Laboratory will do its research on what happens to the heart action, blood flow and blood flow under different psychological stresses with a grant of $318,155 from the National Institutes of Health.

Elkins Terms U. Md. Housing Outlook Critical

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — The dormitory situation at the University of Maryland is "critical" and may mean the erection of "another village of prefabricated houses," President Wilson H. Elkins said Wednesday.

The cost of operating present housing and dining halls will push the fixed charges for university students from $185 to $200 per semester next year, Dr. Elkins told a convocation.

He said the semester-hour costs for part-time undergraduates and graduate students will go from $12 to $15, and, he added, "a shortage of accommodations will impose some reduction in the admission of new out-of-state applicants."

The educator explained to the 6,000 students, faculty and staff members that the changes have been approved to provide the same proportionate share of expenses which have paid by the student for several years.

Dr. Elkins said enrollment is expected to increase from 11,500 to 25,000 by 1968. The university already maintains 132 dwelling units in 66 trailer-type structures on the campus.

He said there will be a tendency to raise requirements for admission and demand a higher level of performance, but added "the doors of the university have been kept open to the average as well as superior student."

CIG Calls Off Some Sit-ins

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Civic Interest Group of Maryland said Wednesday it has cancelled all of its sit-in and demonstration activity in downtown Baltimore to await action by the City Council on the pending public accommodations bill.

If the council fails to pass the legislation, CIG publicity chairman Leo Burroughs said, "sit-in and picketing demonstrations will be renewed in earnest."

Burroughs said a technique known as "civil disobedience" may have to be inaugurated "if racial discrimination on a wide-scale basis continues to run rampant in Baltimore places of public accommodation."

Earlier, the integrationist group said about 500 persons from northern colleges and universities will stage anti-segregration demonstrations Saturday at restaurants in La Plata in southern Maryland, Glen Burnie in suburban Baltimore and possibly Denton on the Eastern Shore.

Candidate, 23, Faces Charge Of Perjury

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Grand Jury returned a presentment Wednesday charging a Democratic candidate for nomination to the state Senate with perjury.

According to the document, Carrington T. Simms Jr. is accused of swearing on his filing certificate that his age was 25, the minimum age for a state senator.

Simms, a candidate in the Fourth District Democratic primary, is listed on the voter registration record as being born Aug. 14, 1938.

Maryland News In Brief

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — The Board of Anne Arundel County Commissioners has been ordered to appear in Circuit Court April 13 and show cause why County Manager J. J. Salovaara should not be reinstated.

The board dismissed Salovaara March 13 on a 5-3 vote after a three-day board hearing on six allegations against Salovaara.

BALTIMORE (AP) — Baltimore and Annapolis Railroad Co. buses operated on once-an-hour Sunday schedules between Baltimore and Annapolis Wednesday. A company spokesman said service would be back to normal Thursday.

Tuesday was the first day of operation for the buses since a 12-day strike by about 60 drivers, members of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. Agreement on a new 2½-year contract Monday night ended the strike.

BALTIMORE (AP) — Leaders from Seattle and Washington State asked more than 100 Baltimore business and civic leaders Wednesday to consider Seattle in future expansion plans.

Gov. Albert D. Rosellini, Mayor Gordon S. Clinton of Seattle and 44 other business and union representatives described Washington as a growing state with immense potential.

The spoke at a luncheon sponsored by the Seattle Area Industrial Council and Century 21. Century 21 is staging the World's Fair in Seattle from april 21 to Oct. 21.

WASHINGTON (AP) — You're going to see cherry blossoms if you come to Washington for the annual Cherry Blossom Festival April 3-11.

That's the word from T. Sutton Jett, director of the Washington region of the National Park Service. The famed trees around the tidal basin, he said, should be showing color by April 6 and should be very pretty during the final days of the festival.

A real warm spell, he said, could bring the blooms out earlier, and heavy rains could reduce the flowering period.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tourists may now see a pictorial history of the White House as they start their sightseeing trip through the executive mansion.

The exhibit has been set up on the ground floor corridor of the east wing, where thousands of visitors start their guided tours of the White House.

The Smithsonian Institution and National Park Service prepared the display of six panels.

Woman To Woman

By PATRICIA MCCORMACK

NEW YORK (UPI) — That happy gymnastic, the Twist, may not be a dance after all.

The dance expert who says so crawls further along the limb, predicting the death knell of the Twist soon will be sounded.

Lou Brecker, manager of one of the nation's largest ballrooms, put it this way:

"Two people do not hold one another while performing the Twist. How can it be a dance?"

The ballroom Brecker manages, Roseland, caters to 10,000 dancers a week. For more than 40 years people have come to the place in Manhattan to do the soft shoe, the slow shuffle, the fast jitterbug and the peaceful waltz.

Among the great orchestras that have played there: Tommy Dorsey's and Glen Miller's.

Because the Twist doesn't fit Brecker's definition of a dance, he's banned the "Hippy Gymnastic" — as he calls it.

"So far as I can figure, we haven't had anyone stomp out of our place angry because they couldn't Twist," Brecker said.

Brecker feels the Twist is on the way out for many reasons.

"For a while," he said, "just putting a 'Twist' sign in a cafe window in midtown was a magic magnet. Of late, indications are that there is less and less power to that word."

—Good dance music played by a top orchestra is not the kind one can perform the weird gyrations to.

—Playwright - producer George Abbott, with whom Brecker watched a Twist session, insisted that it is not a dance and that he would never use it in one of his shows.

—After banning the Twist, Brecker received mail complimenting him on his stand.

—Some people have been injured doing the Twist. At least one doctor has said the injuries are like football injuries.

When he banned the Twist, Brecker soon thereafter received a cable from the director of the London Dance Institute. The cable read:

"Understand you have banned the Twist. We are in absolute agreement."

Accident Injuries Are Fatal To Man

A Baltimore area man died yesterday in Bedford County Memorial Hospital as a result of injuries sustained in a two-vehicle accident March 17 on the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

The victim, William E. Kehner, 50, of Edgewood, Md., was injured when his sedan rammed into the rear of a tractor-trailer being operated by Floyd V. Ashenfelter, of 91 LaVale Boulevard, LaVale.

Pennsylvania Turnpike Police at Everett said the accident occurred three miles west of the Breezewood Interchange and that both vehicles were westbound.

Ashenfelter was not injured in the collision.

RESCUES DOG, CATCHES FISH—Dallas fireman R. W. Oliver wades to shore in Dallas, Tex., with hands full. Called to the small pond to rescue a cocker spaniel dog that was tangled in barbed wire in about four feet of water, Oliver noticed a fishing cork bobbing up and down. He pulled in the cork and its attached line and there was a 1½-pound catfish. He returned the dog to its owner and kept the fish. (AP Photofax)

Moon Control Vital To U.S., Teller Says

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Dr. Edward Teller told Congress Tuesday that the United States must, for its own security, gain control of the moon.

Teller, a distinguished scientist sometimes called the father of the hydrogen bomb, coupled his warning with a plea for a program to establish a large and highly independent colony on the moon.

He said the country that establishes a working base on the earth's natural satellite could control near space, and would be able to "know what was going on everywhere on earth."

"We need the moon for our own safety," Teller told a House space subcommittee.

He called for development of a nuclear reactor which would operate on the moon and might eventually provide enough power to extract water from its rocks and soil.

Teller said that if water can be manufactured from the moon's raw materials "we can grow our own sandwiches" and thus "become much more detached from earth."

On other subjects, the scientist said:

—Russia probably is ahead in the race for space even though the United States "could and should be in first place."

—Women should be trained as astronauts because they are "lighter and sometimes have more brains than men."

—American children are ill-prepared to go into science because of bad secondary schools. The United States should consider establishing great university space centers similar to those of the Atomic Energy Commission.

Stronger Yet Safer- Gives Hours Of Relief From Minor

CHRONIC PAINS OF ARTHRITIS

...even pains arising from deep in joints and bones so it's easier to move afflicted limbs again.

New York, N.Y.—No cure has yet been discovered for arthritis. And doctors constantly warn against fake remedies which claim to have 'the answer.'

But sufferers have found a way to get hours of the most comforting relief from arthritis' and rheumatism's chronic minor pains. It's a combined action (both analgesic and anti-inflammatory) that relieves even pains arising from deep in joints and bones. Thus sufferers find they can move with greater freedom again. And this movement helps avoid 'locked' joints.

The product that's giving such fast and effective relief is Anacin®. Anacin contains a stronger yet safer combination and may be taken as directed as often as needed without upsetting the stomach. Unlike aspirin or buffered aspirin which contains only one pain reliever—Anacin is different and gives you extra medication. You see, Anacin is like a doctor's prescription. That is a combination of medically proven ingredients. In minutes—Anacin brings remarkable 'all-over' relief.

Anacin even contains special medication that works to reduce inflammation and swelling of tissues that causes so much suffering. When such pain goes, it's easier to move afflicted limbs about. This mobility helps keep joints from 'locking.' See if stronger yet safer Anacin doesn't work better for you!

Focus On Health

By JOHN BARBOUR
Associated Press Science Writer

Perhaps the most fearsome shadow that falls across human life is cancer. But this year—today—that shadow is lightening, and the outlook against cancer is more hopeful than it has ever been.

You could hear and feel that hope in the bold new reports on cancer treatment, experiment and study reported this month by scientists at the American Cancer Society's seminar at Phoenix, Ariz.

Listen to what they had to say:

Dr. John Heller, head of Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center, New York —almost two out of three persons who get cancer can be saved today with the best of treatment, the earliest of diagnosis. But because of human factors, only one out of three is saved.

Needed is more medical manpower to spot cancer earlier, more public cooperation to get to their doctors earlier—and then more attention to getting the patient the best treament possible.

With 275,000 Americans dying of cancer this year, it would mean saving more than 90,000 lives.

Every month, every week new findings are adding to the arsenal against cancer.

At this one meeting, doctors reported a new drug—called Methyl Gag for short—which has brought some temporary remissions in cases of adult leukemia—that dread cancer of the blood and bloodmaking organs.

Another scientist reported a way to make some cancers sensitive to killing radiation, so that X-rays can be beamed at them and they will slowly wither leaving normal tissue to take over the function of living.

New methods were described for aiming radiation into deep-seated tumors of the brain.

Dr. Bertil Bjorklund of Sweden told of the search for a common agent to stimulate immunity to cancer. He has already begun injecting that agent into humans, a hopeful beginning test of a vaccine.

Cuba On Edge Of Starvation And Complete Economic Collapse

EDITOR'S NOTE — Gerald Clark, associate editor of the Montreal Star, has twice viewed the Cuban scene in a year from the vantage point of a Canadian reporter. Here are excerpts from a copyright dispatch made available to the Canadian Press and the Associated Press after his recent eight-day look at what the Castro regime has done to Cuba.

By GERALD CLARK
Associate Editor, Montreal Star

KINGSTON, Jamaica (AP)—If you have ever seen anyone die of cancer, you will understand what is happening to Cuba. I left there Saturday, dumbstruck at the shattering disintegration that has taken place since my last visit just a year ago.

In 1961, some people in Havana grumbled and cursed the steady ingrowing of communism. But at least they looked healthy and ate well.

In 1962, the grumbling has taken on ominous proportions, with women battling in market places for food for their children.

All of Cuba is hungry and has just emerged from its first week of rationing with hardly a hope that there will be any improvement.

An entire nation is on the edge of starvation and complete economic collapse.

So desperately short of cash is Prime Minister Fidel Castro's government that it has not been able to place an order in Canada, on which it has relied for some essentials since the U.S. embargo, for four months.

Butter has not been seen for several weeks. Milk is reserved for children under the age of 7.

A year ago, I wrote that any invasion of Cuba would be met with stiff resistance because many people were loyal to Castro; this was confirmed, disastrously for Cuban exiles, a few weeks later.

Today, I would not make such has changed drastically. Castro still has a rigid core of fanatic supporters. He also has an effective secret police. He can boast of at least 300,000 armed militia men and women. But their loyalty is less certain; they themselves are ill-fed.

The main force in Cuba, however, is the flexible mass of people who last year wavered in their enthusiasm but did not join the vociferous group of anti-Castroites in open condemnation. So long as their stomachs were full there was relative contentment, and the remarks were restrained.

But now hunger has brought on bitter and open resentful comments even by people who a few months ago classified themselves as supporters of the revolution.

An East German electronics engineer in Havana to fit equipment in a Cuban freighter, told me, "I am disgusted with these people. They do not want to work, and they expect us to take sugar for our efforts. There is a limit to the amount of sugar Germany needs. We would like some money instead."

And even more significantly a Cuban Communist, referring to the desperate food shortage, said quietly, "The United States has won this round."

For another thing, the Soviet Union has failed to make good its promises. Like the East Germans, the Russians want payment beyond sugar. When I was in Havana a year ago, Industries Minister Ernesto (Che) Guevara told me how 60 factories, provided by the Eastern bloc, were due to be completed in a matter of months.

Only three insignificant factories have been built—a Hungarian tomato cannery, an East German biscuit bakery and a Czech pencil factory. There is no sign of any others under construction.

Economically, Cuba is virtually on its last legs. Some stockpiles of materials in U.S.-built factories still existed as recently as the turn of the year, but almost all are now used up

Agriculture itself has faltered. After last year's bumper crop of nearly 6½-million tons, this year's sugar production is unlikely to exceed 4-million tons, partly the result of drought, partly the indifference of professional cane cutters and last year's unscientific cutting by amateurs recruited in the cities.

Soldiers Seek Refuge

BREMERHAVEN, Germany (UPI)—The Coast Guard said Thursday that eight East German soldiers fled to refuge in the West when their freighter, the Erfurth, docked in Bremerhaven a few days ago.

The average American has to see his doctor about five times annually.

Answers Your Problems

DEAR READERS: Recently a disenchanted husband who signed himself "Just A Boob" asked me to print his letter as a warning to other young fellows.

His wife's family lived like pigs, he said. They never sat at a table for meals — just walked around eating out of cartons and tin cans. Nothing in the house was ever repaired. The furniture was falling apart and the cracks in the walls and ceilings were a disgrace.

In closing he expressed the conviction that girls imitate their mothers and he suggested that a young man look at his fiance's surroundings as a preview of what HIS home will be like.

Since then, I've received a deluge of angry mail. The following writer requested "equal time" and I am delighted to give it.

DEAR ANN: The letter from "Just A Boob" caused me a great anxiety and opened up old wounds.

You see, Ann, I was brought up in much the same environment he described. When I visited the homes of friends I noticed the difference between their orderly well-kept rooms and our miserable dump. By the time I was 13 I was so ashamed of the way we lived I wouldn't invite anyone over.

When I began to date I always tried to be picked up at a girl friend's house. When it couldn't be arranged, I'd meet the fellow at the front door and whisk him away before he could see the dilapidated furniture and the ragged, filthy curtains.

Today I'm married to a wonderful man. We have three children and a beautfiul home. It's as different from my mother's house as sterling silver is from chrome.

I agree, Ann, environment is important, but people can and DO rise above it. And those who do, deserve credit. — MARY

DEAR ANN: I'm glad I didn't see "Boob's" letter five years ago. It might have influenced me and I might have passed up a wonderful girl.

The house he described sounded exactly like the one my wife came from. But I had faith in her. I knew she hated her environment and I knew, too, that when she got out of those terrible surroundings she'd do just the opposite.

My faith paid off. My wife is everything her mother isn't. Our home is lovely. The meals are tasty and beautifully served. It isn't true that every girl turns out to be just like the girl who married dear old father-in-law. —Lucky PIERRE

DEAR ANN: I'm a "Boob", too, but a different kind.

My wife came from the most immaculate home in town. Her mother used to empty the ash tray before I finished the cigarette. Their house wasn't merely clean, it was positively sterile.

My wife and her mother never got along. Her mother was a driven perfectionist whose emphasis was on all the wrong things. My wife swore she'd be different.

Well, she is. Our home is unbelievable — no meals, no clean laundry, beds never made, just a plain mess.

I never would have believed this could happen but it did, and I am — ALSO STUCK

DEAR ANN: So "Just A Boob" adivses young men to look at the homes the girls come from before they marry — well, I'd like to suggest that the girls look at the young men's homes. It may give her an idea of what she'll have to put up with.

My husband's mother is a slob and he is a carbon copy of her. Everything goes on the floor — socks, shorts, ties, damp towels. He never hangs up a suit-coat or puts anything away.

He is more work than our three kids. So, girls if you want to know what your husband is going to be like after marriage — go look at his mother. — 24 HOUR DUTY.

So — dear readers, a small, limp, wet noodle for generalizing .There are indeed exceptions and I think every one of them must have written.

To learn the booby-traps of teen-age drinking, write for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Teen-age Drinking," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Wall Street Views

By ROGER LANE
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—A response—if not an answer—was offered Tuesday to investors who ask: Why is the stock market so hard to predict, so illogical?

Leslie M. Pollack, an analyst for A. M. Kidder & Co., anticipated the recurrent question. Said Pollack:

"Irrationality in the stock market should come as no surprise in a world where: Frenchmen are killing each other in Algiers; the people of Argentina use their freedom to vote for the return of a discredited dictator; and a provincial South American politician—a governor in Brazil—can arbitrarily seize a valuable U.S.-owned utility on his own terms."

Predictably, Pollack said the sluggish state of the market in the last week or so isn't a reason to abandon the underlying optimism so prevalent earlier in March.

Analysts are divided on how much dragginess in Wall Street has tarnished previously bright expectations of a spring rally.

Kenneth Ward of Hayden, Stone & Co., taking a middle ground, defended "selective bullishness" but said it would be imprudent to view things with "the same unrestrained optimism" as before.

"Over-all the market may have to limp along for a further brief period," said Thomson & McKinnon.

But beyond that, the firm added, prospects are encouraging barring unfavorable international developments.

The Ainu people of Japan expect a husband to destroy his house when his wife dies so it will be conveyed to heaven for her use.

Permit Is Issued For Kelly Addition

A permit for the construction of a $270,000 addition to the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company plant has been issued by the City of Cumberland.

Plans called for the construction of a 120 by 260 foot addition which will serve as an extension of the present tire room at the plant.

The very latest of new tire building equipment, the company said, will be placed in the new building when it is completed late this summer.

Ground for the structure was broken last week.

Africans Given 4 Measles Shots

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Another milestone in the worldwide fight against measles was reached Tuesday with report of successful vaccination of 439 children in Upper Volta.

When available in quantity, "the vaccine will provide a means to prevent West Africa's most dreaded childhood disease," the U. S. Public Health Service said.

The service said a National Institutes of Health medical team conducted a two-month pilot study in Ouagadougou at the invitation of Upper Volta's minister of health Dr. Paul Lambin.

The vaccine already had been administered safely to 10,000 U.S. children and has prompted a prediction that it might be ready for large-scale use this year.

But the African study was viewed as expecially significant particularly for underdeveloped nations, because of the different environmental conditions.

"The disease is reported to kill 25 to 50 per cent of children in Upper Volta during the first few years of life, as contrasted with only 1 in 10,000 in this country," the Public Health Service said.

The old National Road, reaching 609 miles from Cumberland, Md., to Vandalia, Ill., was built to link the East with the West. Finished in 1852 at a cost of $7 million, it was the greatest wagon route in the nation.

Dockworkers Strike

TOKYO (UPI) — A strike of 65,000 dockworkers tied up shipping or caused major delays in most of Japan's big ports Tuesday. Union officials said about 35,000 members of other unions joined in a sympathy sit - down strike in support of the 24-hour walkout called for better working conditions.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, — Peter Howard, actor - son of Anita Howard Vanderbilt, is in a much happier frame of mind these days. Now in Hollywood after being banned in Italy and that takes a heap of banning, Peter says all his troubles with the Rome authorities have been settled - and better still, he'll be the only American in Brigitte Bardot's new movie, "The Question" in Paris.

Young Howard's story is that the whole difficulty over being refused re-entry into Italy was due to a party he hosted last year in Anita Ekberg's honor. An over-enthusiastic young lady did a strip, frowned on by the police. The resultant publicity made Peter persona non grata in Rome. "But there are new authorities in power, I can return any time —and besides I don't care. I'm heading for Paris and Brigitte," says the scion of the wealthy Howard family.

George Charkiris, touted by many admirers to win an Oscar supporting-award for his performance in "Diamond Head" finishes in Hawaii two days before the Academy Awards. Talked to Walter Mirisch to ask what plans he has for this young man. He said that John Sturges, who is directing "The Great Escape" with James Garner, Steve McQueen, Richard Harris (and John Mills practically set for one of the top roles), is writing in a part for George.

Jack Benny already has agreed to play his violin for his Cameo role in "Gypsy" at Warners. But he'll hear some sad news Thursday when he lunches with producer-director Mervyn Leroy. Jack had intended to play his favorite number "Love in Bloom," but because the period of "Gypsy" is before the time "Love in Bloom" was written, he'll have to select another song.

As to Jack's age when he faces the camera in two weeks, Mervyn says Jack will look his standard 39, just as he's supposed to look today.

There's many a slip 'twixt the cup and the lip, as our copy books said in the dark ages. Take the case of Rod Serling, creator of "Twilight Zone" TV series. He's been signed by 20th Century-Fox for "Evil Come, Evil Go," but CBS is claiming an immediate commitment with Serling which may set back the date of his movie.

In a quiet corner of the Rendezvous Room of the Beverly Hilton Hotel, Marlene Dietrich and Michael Wilding were deep in conversation.

Sorry to have missed the wedding and reception of Edd Byrnes and Asa Maynor. I was so pleased they invited me. The bridegroom had to go back to work on "77 Sunset Strip," the only TV series now filming on the Warner lot. He and Asa will honeymoon as soon as he can get away.

Al Ritz, who had a fainting spell on a stage in Las Vegas, will be dismissed from St. John's Hospital Friday. Harry Ritz tells me the rest has done Al a lot of good, and the Brothers Three will open in New Jersey May 14, and will also do a spot on CBS.

When a friend of Joe E. Lewis met him in Houston, where he's appearing at the Shamrock Hotel, the friend picked up Joe's heavy suitcase. Staggering under the load the friend gasped, "What have you got in this?" Replied Joe E., "My act is in it—and don't spill a drop of it!"

Dinah Shore sang with her heart at the Riviera, and proved she needs no one but herself. Such raves! Must take myself to Las Vegas to hear her.

Celanese Fetes Fitzpatrick

William H. Fitzpatrick of Narrows, Va., a former resident of Cumberland, recently was presented a wrist watch in recognition of his 25th anniversary with Celanese Fibers Company.

A senior engineer in the project engineering department at the Celco plant in Narrows, Fitzpatrick joined Celanese in 1937 as a draftsman at the Amcelle plant. Transferred to Celco in 1939, he has since served there in various supervisory capacities.

A native of Clinton, N. Y., Fitzpatrick is a graduate of Brooklyn (N. Y.) Polytechnic Institute with a bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering. A second lieutenant in the field artillery during World War 1, he remained in the Army Reserves until 1940.

A registered professional engineer in New York and Virginia, Fitzpatrick is a member of the National Society of Professional Engineers, and Blacksburg (Va.) Chapter of the Virginia Society of Professional Engineers.

Fitzpatrick was presented his service award by another former resident, William Cramer, who is manager of the Celco plant, and a 25-year emblem and certificate by Norman S. Pliner, engineering manager at Celco, who formerly was employed at the Amcelle plant.

Wisconsin, to date, is the only state which requires seat belts to be installed in cars. The state makes it mandatory that all 1962 vehicles — and those of future years — have at least two front seat belts.

Mining in Jamaica began in 1942 when a landholder wondered why grass and corn grew so poorly on red fields cupped among the green hills. He ordered tests which proved that the content of the red earth was nearly 50 per cent aluminum oxide.

Coffee With A Farmer

HARRINGTON, Wash. (UPI)—Visitors to Seattle's World Fair this summer are being invited to stop off in Eastern Washington en route and "take a coffee break with a farmer."

The project is, naturally enough, the idea of a farmer's wife, Mrs. Berna Easton of this little Eastern Washington farming town. She thought it would be a good idea to get Eastern and city visitors acquainted with real, honest-to-goodness Western farms.

The idea was taken over by the Washington Association of Wheat Growers, which is signing up its members in 14 counties who are willing to have visitors drop in. Information centers will be set up in each community to direct visitors to a host ranch.

The visits may be for a few minutes or a few hours. The visitors will be given a chance to see the land, the machinery and the buildings that make up a modern wheat ranch, which in this area may range from 500 acres to 3,000 more acres.

The CENTENNIAL SCRAPBOOK

The War for the Union 1861-65 in Pictures

No. 109 What happened at Dranesville, Va., in December 1861, provided no substance for the legend of James Ewell Brown Stuart as the personification of Paladin or Lancelot.

Stuart, made a brigadier general, C.S.A., at 28, after his performances in western Virginia and at Bull Run, had four regiments of infantry with his cavalry on a foraging expedition when he ran into a Federal force at Dranesville.

The force was the 4,000-man Third Brigade of Maj. Gen. George McCall's Division of Pennsylvania Volunteers, Army of the Potomac. The brigade was commanded by Brig. Gen. Edward Otho Cresap Ord, an old artilleryman who had expanded in action against Indians what he had learned of tactics at West Point.

Outmaneuvered and outfought, Stuart had to retire after a two-hour engagement with a loss of 194 men and his wagon train. Casualties in the Ord brigade were 68. If the Rebels were counting on the raid to provide fare for Christmas, they were disappointed sorely indeed.

The Southern-born Ord was breveted for his victory over the Southerners and promoted in March to command of a division. Few division or corps commanders went through more action in the following three years than Ord, although he was laid up twice with severe wounds.

This Bible Acceptable To Varied Faiths

By CLAIRE COX

NEW YORK (UPI)—A step toward a Bible acceptable alike to Protestants, Roman Catholics and Jews has been taken with a publishing venture made possible by international and interfaith cooperation that ranged from the Vatican to the Hebrew University of Jerusalem.

Leaders of the three major western religious groups long have been seeking a common translation of the Scriptures, principally for use in schools and other places where persons of different faiths congregate.

Publication of the "illustrated World of the Bible Library," a five-volume work, indicates at least that members of different faiths can work together to produce an ecumenical publication based on the Bible.

Five publishing houses, in New York, Israel and England, financed the project. Jewish scholars in Jerusalem assembled the material, with the help of museums, libraries, religious bodies and governments throughout the Judeo-Christian world. The text on which the volumes were based is that of the Revised Standard Version of the Bible, first published 10 years ago under sponsorship of the National Council of Churches, the leading spokesman for American Protestantism.

"The Illustrated World of the Bible Library" is a storehouse of artistic, archeological, geographical and geological information dating back to Biblical times.

The five volumes—four devoted to the Old Testament and one to the New—contain more than 1,500 full-color photographs and nearly 200 black and white illustrations. It took the cooperation of 120 museums and collections in 18 countries to amass many of these photographs.

Experts visited the Vatican museum, the Egyptological collection in Florence, Italy, the Louvre in Paris, the British Museum and other repositories of antiquities in Turkey ard other middle-eastern areas.

It took five years to complete the Old Testament segment and another year for the New Testament. The Revised Standard Version was selected for scriptural references because it included results of the most recent research available to scholars at that time.

Liquor Board Urges Action On Renewals

The Allegany County Board of Alcoholic Beverage Licenses Commissioners yesterday reported that only about 25 persons have made application for renewal of their beer, wine and liquor permits.

There are approximately 280 licensed establishments in the county and all applications for renewal have to be advertised. The new license year begins May 1 and time is growing short for filing for new licenses.

Dimitri Tiomkin's Oscar Nominations One Of Three Sure Things In Hollywood

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Only three things are sure bets in Hollywood—swimming pools, mink coats and Oscar nominations for Dimitri Tiomkin.

The Russian-born composer was nominated for the 19th and 20th times this year, which must be some sort of record in Academy Award annals. In 18 previous trips to the post he has won four statuettes.

Consequently Tiomkin must be one of the great losers in Academy history, having run out of the money in 14 races.

On April 9, when the 34th annual Academy Awards program announces the winners, Dimi (as he is known to friends, enemies and persons who cannot pronounce Dimitri) will discover whether he has increased his Oscar collection to five or, perhaps, six.

He is in the running for the best music score of a dramatic picture, "The Guns of Navarone" and the best song, "Town Without Pity."

Tiomkin's greatest hit was his award-winning score for "High Noon."

Dwells On Music

But Dimitri is above worry about his chances of copping another award. He frets on a higher plane—the entire music industry involved in motion picture making.

"In the past I scored from 12 to 14 pictures a year," he said wistfully. "Now I only write three or four."

It must be noted here that Tiomkin quite possibly has the most horrendous Russian accent this side of Mike Romanoff. His rapidity of speech falls only a few wave lengths short of supersonic. Thus, Dimi has communication problems.

"There are fewer movies, but the music is better," he said approximately. No one can be certain of his exact working.

"In the old days the studios had their own music departments and their own composers. Some of those people were left over from the silent days. Their idea of a score was a theme for the villain, one of the hero and one for the heroine. It was terrible. Terrible!

Effect Of Music

"I remember once MGM sent out an order not to write the title music in a minor key because people would think it was a sad picture."

Coming to the heart of the matter, Dimi said, "Another reason why I work on less pictures is because I ask big money and spend more time writing the scores."

According to Tiomkin movie music is in its infancy.

"Movies are just beginning to reach their potential in music," he went on. "But we are criticized by some people who say our compositions will not last. Well, it's not supposed to last like a symphony. It is background music to help dramatize the picture."

It was suggested Tiomkin might find greener composing fields in television.

DAVID L. LUKE 3rd

Westvaco Elects Board Chairman And President

A new board chairman and president have been elected by the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company which operates a mill at nearby Luke, Md.

The company announced that David L. Luke was elected chairman of the board and his son, David L. Luke 3rd, 39, was elected to succeed him as president. This marks the first change in top management of the firm since 1945.

The board of directors described the new organizational arrangement as a transitional step designed to provide strong continuity of management in anticipation of Chairman Luke's scheduled retirement in February 1965.

The chairman will be chief executive officer of the company and will continue to be responsible for a number of staff functions, including financial and legal activities, as well as relations with United States Envelope Company, in which the paper company has a majority stock interest.

The new president will have direct responsibility for the manufacturing and marketing activities of the company's nine operating divisions in this country and a Brazilian subsidiary, Rigesa, S.A. The company's domestic operations include six integrated pulp and paper mills with an annual capacity of more than 1,250,000 tons; 25 converting plants which manufacture a full range of paper packaging; two chemical manufacturing operations; a building board plant and a million acres in commercial forests.

Luke is the sixth man to serve as president since the company was organized more than 70 years ago. A great grandson of one of the founders, William Luke, he represents the fourth generation of the Luke family to take a leading role in the management of the company.

During the new chairman's 17-year tenure as president, a new company was literally built on the roots of an old one. By investing close to $290 million, largely from internal funds, to renovate its war-weary mills, the company now has three of the most modern and efficient papermaking operations in the country at Charleston, S. C., Covington, Va., and Luke.

Educated as a chemical engineer at Yale's Sheffield Scientific School and trained in operations when he joined the company 40 years ago, Luke has relied heavily on research for the technological advances which have accounted for his company's growth.

The newly-elected president came to the company in 1952 and made his mark in the commercial area by planning and implementing a new approach to marketing which combined commercial analysis, grade profitability studies, market research, sales personnel development and distinctive trade advertising and promotion. The success of these techniques enabled the company to expand its direct-selling effort, then largely limited to utility grades of paper, to users of commercial printing papers, a practice still unique in the paper industry.

He became a vice-president in 1953 and a member of the board of directors in 1954. When he advanced to executive vice president, commercial, in 1957, Luke took on the additional responsibility of directing the company's sales organization, which now accounts for an annual volume of more than $250 million.

Liquor Appeal Case Set Today

Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris will preside today at 10 a. m. in Circuit Court in the appeal of a LaVale package liquor store operator from a decision of the Allegany County Board of Alcoholic Beverage License Commissioners.

Hugh Kifer, who operates a package goods store on U.S. Route 40 opposite the LaVale Plaza Shopping Center, filed the appeal after the liquor board in an opinion in the application for a license in that area stated they would not grant an on-sale liquor permit but would grant a package goods liquor license to Mrs. Katherine Mills.

Leslie J. Clark, attorney for Kifer, filed the appeal following the board's decision after a remonstrance hearing on the application some weeks ago. At that time the liquor board stated that a permit to operate an on-sale business at the shopping center would not be granted but an off-sale permit would be issued.

Scout Troop 87 Lists Activities

A model contest was held at the regular meeting of Troop 87, Boy Scouts of America, last night. The Scouts exhibited model cars and other replicas which they had constructed during the past month. Earl Nonnenmann of the Sports Shoppe judged the models on the basis of neatness and originality, and the prize, a gift certificate, was awarded to Jimmy Carson.

At a meeting of the troop committee earlier in the week plans were made for the Boy Scout Exposition April 6 and 7 at LaVale Plaza. Troop 87's theme will be "Cooking," and troop members will be on hand to make and bake pancakes for the public.

Also discussed were plans for the Boy Scout Summer Camp which Troop 87 will attend the week of July 1-7.

Activities of the Senior Scout Patrol were outlined and include work on the railroad merit badge. In this connection a trip to the Baltimore and Ohio shops and a train trip to Washington in April have been proposed. An overnight canoe trip is planned May 19. Scouts will spend a night at Springfield, W. Va., and then canoe to the mouth of the South Branch the next day.

Pa. Men Arrested

Two Johnstown, Pa., men were arrested yesterday by Pennsylvania State Police stationed in Bedford in connection with the burglarizing of an Alum Bank, Pa., home on March 12.

Calvin C. Rose Jr., 18, and Robert K. Miller, also 18, were arraigned yesterday by Justice of the Peace H. Cyril Bingham in Bedford, Pa.

They waived their hearing and were taken to the county jail pending the next term of the grand jury in Bedford County, according to police, who said the home of Richard W. Eichler was burglarized earlier this month.

Admitted To Hospital

Rocco Franzi, 22, of 313 South Cedar Street, was admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital last night with a fractured left elbow he said he received while wrestling with another youth.

Picketing Continues

Picketing of the entrance of the woodyard of the Luke mill of West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company continued late yesterday in the wake of a work stoppage by wood suppliers.

State Police are reported patrolling the area, although there has been no trouble.

A spokesman for the Tri-State Pulpwood Association, a group of independent workers, said the men are asking for an increase of $2.50 per cord of pulpwood, a pile of wood eight feet long, four feet high and four feet wide — totaling 128 cubic feet.

It was reported yesterday there were no deliveries of wood by truck, although some had been shipped in by rail.

The spokesman for the association pointed out that the Luke situation concerns about 3,000 persons including about 500 contractors, truckers, cutters and haulers.

The dispute, which began Monday morning, has had no effect on the operation of the Luke mill.

Man Fined $100

James W. Baldwin, 21, of 26 Pennsylvania Avenue, yesterday was fined $100 on two motor charges which resulted from an unusual accident last week on Greenway Avenue.

Magistrate Paul W. Barnett conducted the hearing and fined Baldwin $50 for reckless driving and $50 for leaving the scene of an accident.

Philosophy

We believe that education is sustained, utilized and protected by society. Our college, as an essential and integral part of the American way of life, has a direct relationship and responsibility to the community to serve as a leader in educational thought and practice. To this end, the educational resources of the institution are made available for use by the community;

We believe that education embraces knowledge, training and aspiration. Consequently, we believe in the dissemination of knowledge, the liberation of minds, the development of skills, the promotion of free inquiries, the encouragement of the creative or inventive spirit, and the establishment of a wholesome attitude toward order and change;

We believe that we should educate broadly through a program of liberal education which introduces the students to the basic fields of knowledge — the humanities, mathematics, the natural sciences and the social sciences;

We believe that it is our responsibility to guide the student in the exercise of self-direction in the solution of his problems and to arouse in him the desire to continue education as long as he lives;

We believe in the development of the total personality — intellectual, social, emotional, spiritual and physical. We believe that knowledge alone is not enough. Ethics is indispensable; therefore, our program emphasizes appreciation and response to beauty, truth and justice, thus contributing to the general cultural development of the community;

We believe in the cooperative and continual evaluation of the college, its purpose and program, to the end that it may contribute to the maximum development of the individual.

Hearing Next Week

Leon Adams Edwards, 42, Washington, will be given a hearing next week in Trial Magistrate Court on nine counts of passing bad checks in the city.

Edwards was given a preliminary hearing last week in Trial Magistrate Court and is being held in the County Jail in default of $1,000 bond.

County Investigator Edwin R. Lilya yesterday obtained nine warrants against Edwards for passing bad checks in the city totaling $451.08.

There will be a fee for the course, which will have a class limitation of 20.

National Interest Thinking Required

Wages chase the cost of living. Or is it the other way about?

One section of the economy makes a "hardship" case; the old, old cliches about cost of living and injustice are produced and demands for wage increases are met. Perhaps in some cases the demands can be justified in relation to the rest of the economy. But it never ends there. Others move upward, too.

In some circles the suspicion is growing that there is a victim and that it is neither the employe nor the employer, but the national interest.

In Britain a wage freeze was imposed last July. This is now being replaced by a "national wage policy" geared to industrial productivity. An entirely new factor, "the national interest," will be introduced into all wage negotiations. As the United Kingdom Information Office describes it:

"Arguments based on the cost of living or the trends of profits or productivity in a particular industry should no longer be taken as the sole basis for a wage increase. Nor should comparisons with pay rates in other industries. These are still relevant, but more consideration must be given to the national interest."

It is time this was said. Many are waiting for political parties in their countries to muster their courage, stop concentrating on vote-getting and start thinking about the national interest, and introduce something like it.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

The Tariff

When the United Mine Workers adopt a high tariff policy, the changes that are taking place in the thinking of the workers are notable. While businessmen and bankers and their various associations hold different opinions on this subject, depending upon how much capital and how many jobs they have exported, the working man must protect himself from unemployment and government imposed impoverishment.

This is part of an editorial which recently appeared in the United Mine Workers Journal:

"The show-down battle over foreign trade policy has just begun in the 87th Congress. The immediate concern of the coal industry, the UMWA and allied industries and labor organizations is to convince the powerful House of Representatives Ways and Means Committee that American coal must be protected from the ravages of imported residual (waste) oil."

In another place, the same publication says:

"If the Trade Expansion Act of 1962 (H.R. 9900) is enacted by the Congress it will make the Chief Executive a virtual dictator over the economic welfare of American business and industry and the jobs of millions of American workers.

"Under the proposed legislation the Congress would give up, once and for all, its constitutional authority to regulate foreign commerce. The new foreign trade act would place in the hands of the President of the United States absolute control over the import-export policy of the nation. It would permit the Chief Executive to open the flood gates to a deluge of cheap-labor produced foreign goods."

This will be the principal issue in the 1962 Congressional campaign and it will surprise the politicians of both political parties to discover that labor rather than management has gone high tariff. Should there be increased unemployment, the so-called labor statesmen who prefer to go along with President John F. Kennedy will have a revolt on their hands. The United Mine Workers Journal deals with this, too:

"The AFL-CIO, as a federation, is supporting the 'free trade' program, although many affiliates are actively opposed because of the damaging effect the program will have on American jobs and the American standard of living. The Federation's position is contrary to the traditional protectionist policy of American labor. It seems to be based on expediency . . ."

The real difficulty is that the United States has become so involved in treaties and agreements that it is almost hopeless to make head or tail out of it. The worst of these is GATT which in a measure deprives the United States of its sovereignty in economic matters. When the GATT agreement comes up for renewal, it would be sound to drop it and start all over again.

The reason that the United Mine Workers are so opposed to the Kennedy tariff policies as they were opposed to the Eisenhower tariff policies is that coal mining is ceasing to be a profitable enterprise. It is this that has impoverished the State of West Virginia. The worst offender against West Virginia is residual oil, a cheap product of the oil industry, brought in mostly from such countries as Venezuela. The Mine Workers editorial says:

"If the proposed increase in residual oil quotas goes through it will be equivalent to four million tons of coal a year. That's four million tons that you, as a coal miner, won't be mining. That's another four million tons that won't be produced and sold to pay wages to American coal miners or royalties to our Welfare Fund or to bring income into depressed coal mining communities."

Here again is a difficult situation. The United States seeks to build up the economy of Latin American countries in the hope of keeping them on our side of the fence. Thus, we pay more for Brazilian and Colombian coffee than we should. Thus, we give Hong Kong and Italy advantages over our clothing industry. As long as the United States is the principal consumer's goods market in the world, nations which have commodities to sell will bargain politically for their share of this market.

Thus domestic economics comes into conflict with international political policy and compromising decisions do not help because involved in this question are jobs for our workers.

If the Kennedy Administration can find a formula for preventing unemployment, this problem could solve itself. But unemployment is intolerable. It is a tough nut to crack and thus far no wise man has come forth with a solution.

Pearson Representative Attends Closed Meeting Of Right-Wingers

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Rev. Billy James Hargis, 300-pound rabble-rouser, told a closed-door meeting of right-wing organizations in Washington the other day: "Drew Pearson has this place bugged. We'll read all about it in his column."

While I did not have the Washington Hotel bugged, I don't want to disappoint Rev. Hargis. I did have a representative present and can report what happened.

Only trusted right-wingers with signed invitations from Hargis were admitted. Even the waiters were barred. The only outsider admitted without a pass was a Marine in uniform. The guard looked him over and said: "I guess you're ok, Buddy."

The single protest against the meeting came from George Lincoln Rockwell, head of the American Nazi Party, who sent four of his storm troopers to hand out statements against Hargis.

The Rev. Billy James was flanked at the meeting by two Congressmen, both members of the John Birch Society — John Rousselot of California and E. Y. Berry of South Dakota, the latter arriving late.

Among the speakers were Gen. Bonner Fellers and Gen. Charles Willoughby, two of MacArthur's former aides; Ed Hunter, former witchhunter for the McCarthy committee; Congressmen Rousselot and Berry.

What They Said—

Said Gen. Willoughby: "Newspapers attempt to conceal, suppress, and slant the true facts, but they can't conceal that we are engaged in a war."

Ed Hunter, former investigator for Sen. Joe McCarthy, harangued the crowd on Communist traps to be wary of, one of which he said was the "sudden and vicious attacks on the John Birch Society.

"Be sure not to participate in any issue which the Communists may be exploiting."

Gen. Bonner Fellers warned against the foreign aid program, which he said had been conceived by Harry Dexter White who urged that the United States spend $10,000,000,000 developing Russian mineral resources after World War II so we could keep ours in reserve; and by Earl Browder who proposed that after World War II the United States spend $40,000,000,000 a year to rebuild the devastated areas and develop the underdeveloped nations.

"Today, foreign aid serves no purpose but to undermine our economy," said Gen. Fellers. "Major decisions were made during the war to weaken ourselves and strengthen Russia. The Marshall Plan — unquestionably unconstitutional—was not anti-Communist. It was of great service to Russia."

Congressman Rousselot charged that the Kennedy Administration was "devoted to Fabian socialism."

"Arthur Schlesinger," he proclaimed, "laid down the plan to socialize the United States in Partisan Review in 1947. Although most of the—er—some of the Congressmen are socialists, they don't like the world socialism. They are pushing such things as free lunch programs, scholarships, etc."

Rev. Hargis, aged 30 and obviously feeling his 300 pounds of weight, gave a wheezing, puffing speech in which, among other things, he called Drew Pearson a liar and asked for a letter-writing campaign to editors against his column. He said he had personally paid $125 for the Washington room at the Washington Hotel. "I am $5,000 overdrawn at this very moment," he said.

Hargis called Robert Welch, founder of the John Birch Society, "one of the most dedicated patriots I know. Richard Nixon turned his back on Welch and his old friends in order to win liberal votes (in California). He has said that membership in the Birch Society is incompatible with membership in the Republican Party.

"Nixon will be brought down to political oblivion and defeat by turning his back on the anti-Communist movement."

This brought the biggest hand of the evening.

Back-Door Boycott—The U. S. government is impatient with foreign businessmen who sell boycotted goods to Cuba through the back door. Hereafter, anyone who gets caught at it will be barred from getting government contracts for life and will be subject to arrest if he ever sets foot on American shores. The blacklisting will also extend to any firm the offender joins. A London firm, Latin-American Development, Ltd., is already under investigation for attempting to buy spare parts in the USA for Cuban oil refineries.

Too Many Agents—More than two dozen government agents posed as bellboys and busboys at Miami Beach's Eden Roc Hotel recently to keep an eye on Teamster Boss Jimmy Hoffa's activities. Unknown to them, two hoodlums were using the same disguise. Dressed as busboys, they walked into the hotel office, pulled guns on the manager, and walked out with over $100,000 in cash and checks. They easily made their getaway through the government agents—also dressed as busboys.

Ethel Kennedy's Serenade—Attorney General Robert Kennedy snitched on his wife Ethel the other day and told how she had insisted on singing to singer Marian Anderson. The Attorney General was scolded when he got home for not telling the full story. Ethel was trying to suggest a number for Miss Anderson to sing as an encore. Unable to recall the name, Ethel tried singing and humming the tune.

Baseball Blacklist? — Baseball Monthly, the new Baseball magazine, will publish ex-Dodger star Carl Furillo's complaint that he has been blacklisted from the game for speaking out for his rights. He wrote to Tennessee Sen. Estes Kefauver, the clean-sports champion: "I feel because of my challenging the front office and sticking to my contract I have been blacklisted from baseball."

New Kind Of 'Peace Corps' For Washington?

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Maybe there's a job here in Washington for a new kind of "Peace Corps." Perhaps it could be recruited among the "intellectuals" from the newly created states in Africa, some of whom have been educated in universities in America and Europe. For the crime wave in the nation's capital certainly needs attention, and there is a suggestion now from local officials that race hostility may be among the causes of the unprecedented outbursts of violence.

Only two cities of camparable size in the United States had more robberies last year than the city of Washington. Chief Judge Matthew F. McGuire of the U. S. District Court said from the bench recently that he's going to crack down on offenders. He then described the situation as follows:

"You can't go out in the street without being hit on the head. You can't ride a bus. You can't close your place of business at night but what thieves get in.

"This thing is really serious and it has got to stop. The only way to stop it is to have the word go out that if you are caught it is just too bad—you go to jail.

"We are either going to have a community of law and order or we are going to have chaos. Thieves knocking people down in the street and purse snatching has got to stop. What kind of a city are we living in?"

About 54 per cent of Washington's population is Negro. Police records show that 87 per cent of those arrested for robbery last year were Negroes and that 75 per cent of the prisoners in Washington's correctional institutions are Negroes.

Donald Clemmer, Director of Corrections, speaks of racial hostility as a factor in the crime wave here. He told a meeting of sociologists recently that "Washington is not a syndicated, racket-type city" and that only a small number of professional criminals are involved in crimes here. He suggested that some of the pointless violence noted in Washington's robberies can be traced to "Negro hostility toward whites." Mr. Clemmer added that some of the hostility has grown out of a feeling of "new-found freedom" among Negro youths as a result of sociological developments related to federal court rulings on desegregation and the emergence of many African areas as independent states. He predicted that conditions may get worse.

Washington officials were aroused recently by an incident in which a band of Negro teenagers beat up and robbed the white driver of a bus while Negro passengers sat and watched without interfering. Attacks on other buses followed.

Congress, which rules the District of Columbia, has been asked for help. The Board of Commissioners—which includes John B. Duncan, the first Negro commissioner and a very able man—is requesting more police. Mr. Duncan says: "As a society, we're going to have to treat youth more firmly than we have in recent years."

The Board of Commissioners has recommended the mobilization of the police-reserve corps of 2,000 unpaid volunteers formed for use in emergencies. About 500 are believed to be trained for part-time duty in policing the streets. The regular police force is to expand from 2,700 to 3,000 men.

Two additional judges have been provided by Congress for the juvenile court, where there is a backlog of 2,000 cases.

Commenting on the views of Judge McGuire and Commissioner Duncan, the Washington "Evening Star" said recently:

"Mr. Duncan makes the point, and we think he is right, that public tolerance of crime, indifference to conditions which breed crime and insufficient discipline of young people are major contributing factors to the upsurge of violence in the nation's capital.

"The immediate problem, however, is that of coping with crime itself, not the conditions which produce criminals. In this connection, more extensive policing of the streets and the severe penalties suggested by Judge McGuire certainly would help. To be avoided is the fuzzy-minded notion that the yokers will go away if we all pretend that they don't exist."

There may be something, after all, in the idea of a special "Peace Corps" of African "intellectuals" to study sociological conditions in the District of Columbia. They may be able to appeal to racial pride, and their findings might give the educated Negroes in Washington the stimulus to take the leadership in the drive against crime. Maybe what really ought to be done is to form a new organization to be known as "the national association for the advancement of both colored and white people."

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

PATRIOTIC WAVE — Legislators are giving astronaut Col. John H. Glenn Jr., credit for what they claim is a resurgence of patriotism.

His statement during his address to Congress—"I still get a hard-to-define feeling when the flag goes by—and I know that all of you do, too"—is the line most quoted by congressmen in their newsletters back home.

Rep. Jim Wright, Texas Democrat, referred to Glenn's statement as a rededication of national pride and Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, of Montana, told the Senate, "We need more of this kind of flag-waving."

But the scoop of the month concerned the fast thinking of Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, California Republican. Anticipating a lot of requests, Kuchel put in the first bid to purchase the flag that was flying atop the Capitol at the moment that Glenn was fired into orbit at Cape Canaveral.

It now flies over a school in West Covina, Calif., presented by the senator. Incidentally, the name of the school has been changed to the "John H. Glenn Jr. School."

KEEP 'EM HAPPY — For a number of years, American girls assigned to government jobs in Ecuador became unhappy in droves after they'd been working there for a while. Many requested transfers back to the states or just plain quit to return home.

The high rate of turnover was quite expensive for the government and also had a drastic effect on efficiency of federal operations in the Latin American country.

The State Department assigned a team of investigators to find out what was wrong. After some questions were asked, it was found that many of the girls were dissatisfied and lonesome because they were rarely asked out socially by Ecuadorian men.

Further investigation developed that the Ecuadorian swains are slight of build and short of stature, and they wouldn't be caught dead escorting ladies who towered over them.

Now, State is giving preference in assignments to Ecuador to single girls who are no more than five feet tall. Low heels are recommended.

Evidence indicates that the plan is meeting with success. The shortie girls are welcomed by the shortie men in Ecuador; they're breaking into the country's social life, are happier, doing better work. And, foremost from the State Department's view, they've stopped asking for transfers back home.

Tiny French Primitive

By John Crosby

Let's consider the art world today. In New York Robert Rauschenberg composes pictures out of Coca Cola bottles, dissected birds, old photographs. Well, that's how it is, man. If you don't like it, you're real square. Bruce Connor assembles his works of art out of stockings, bits of cotton, old hospital bandages, feathers.

The continued existence of junk art, which both the museums and art galleries exhibit and exploit, is one of the things future archeologists are going to have a lovely time explaining in, say, the year 4000 when they start poking through the ruins of what we so hysterically call our culture. John Latham, in London, prefers books half-burned which he glues on canvas with other bric-a-brac.

Recently, an important Paris art gallery was filled with the contents of two garbage dump trucks. That was the show. Art lovers (if that's the word for them) were invited to this smelly exhibit by means of a sardine can with a key attached. When you opened the can, there was the invitation—and more garbage. Then there's Alvar Carillo Gil, of Mexico, who collects what is thrown up in the Yucatan straits out of which he makes a composition.

"You know everybody paint," said Poucette, the tiny French artist whose paintings are at the Sagittarius Gallery. "An awful lot of eet ees . . ." She used a word which even in French cannot be used in a family newspaper, although it's the only word to describe junk art.

Poucette's paintings — she has forty of them in the exhibition—are intensely individual, dreamlike, romantic, primitive, and immensely stylish. You can recognize a Poucette instantly. No one else has the courage to be so innocent. At least not this year. Next year maybe. Innocence is coming back in the arts, I keep predicting.

Innocence?

"I like to paint lions and bordellos. I paint many bordellos. Bordellos? You can put that word in newspaper?"

I said I thought so. Why did she like to paint bordellos? "Because they are interesting." She also paints horses and queens and buildings with a marvellously intricate but organized and disciplined sense of design. The buildings are Renaissance and full of columns, and I asked her where she found them.

"In Italy. I am very influenced by Italian primitives. Giotto. I like also Van Gogh, Max Ernst, Picasso, Miro." Miro is perhaps the closest of those to her work although Poucette is pretty much herself.

She showed me a small study of a much larger painting she had done for the Earl of Warwick's bowling alley in Gstaad in Switzerland. Three queens with crowns on their heads watching riderless horses galloping around a track. Behind them an endless Renaissance building with tower.

"Are those queens naked?" I asked.

"Of course," she said.

She showed me another painting of three naked girls. "That's me in the center. You can tell it's me because I have not got a crown on." The other two naked girls had crowns, indicating they were queens, of course.

Sometimes the paintings get quite abstract but always there is coherence of design and somewhere there is a figure and a meaning. The flamingos may be violent (she has a marvelous color sense) but they are clearly flamingos, not bits of somebody's stockings. I asked her if she ever did a collage (which is what they call junk art in polite society).

"I did one," she said moutfully. "They have left it in Paris. I hope it arrives in time for the show." Her collage was shown in a Paris exhibit with other artists' collages which included broken clocks, girdles, coffee cups, razor blades, old rugs, and an electric motor which jolted a construction of old fur. However, Poucette's collage was so explicit—a girl against her usual buildings—that several critics spoke wonderingly about it. It was esthetic and that's the last thing art should be. Not this year, anyway. Maybe next year.

Poucette has many admirers besides me. Her paintings have been bought by Stavros Niarchos, Mrs. Paul Mellon, the Shah of Iran, Alexandre of Yugoslavia, the Aly Khan, and Kirk Douglas.

DTs: Hallucinations After A Drinking Spree

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

"Dear Dr. van Dellen: Please explain the shakes or the snakes that some derelicts have in getting over a spree. Why do some have them and others don't? What is the remedy, if any?"

This reader is referring to delirium tremens (DTs) which have been popularized by hallucinations involving pink elephants and snakes crawling on the wall.

This condition affects long time alcoholics who go on drinking bouts lasting days or weeks. They subsist on alcohol and coffee during this time. The only sleep they get comes in the form of an alcoholic stupor. The DTs may come on when they stop or reduce drinking, depending upon their physical condition, age, personality, how many years they have been drinking, and the duration of the current spree.

The victim is flushed, dishevelled, and shaking like a leaf on awakening from an alcoholic binge (often in jail). The picture gets worse when he cannot obtain a drink. Restlessness increases and he becomes confused, with changes in judgment and reasoning. He cannot remember what happened recently and impairment of higher control centers may lead to outbursts of violence.

There are wide fluctuations of mood and finally the victim becomes delirious. He goes wild when frightened by the snakes and elephants he sees; becomes demanding when his delusions turn to something of importance; and cries when he develops feelings of self-condemnation.

Sedatives such as phenobarbital, paraldehyde, or chloropromazine are needed to keep him quiet. When the room is darkened the terrifying hallucinations are less likely to occur. On the other hand, anxiety may be accentuated when there is no light in the room. Vitamins B and C are helpful and extra fluids combat dehydration. Magnesium also may be helpful. A high caloric, high protein diet is started as soon as the souse is well enough to eat.

INTELLIGENCE

M. K. writes: Is there any relationship between the I. Q. and the basal metabolic rate?

REPLY

The adult with a low metabolic rate (hypothyroidism) is likely to be dull or apathetic. This could affect the results of the intelligence test and give him a lower grade than he would get if his thyroid activity were normal. A low metabolism from birth may retard the development of the brain, which would be reflected in a low I. Q. (cretinism).

SPREAD OF WARTS

R. H. writes: I know ordinary warts are caused by a virus. Can this virus be transmitted by holding hands with a person or by oral contact?

REPLY

Through personal contact, but warts are so common in youngsters it is reasonable to assume that the virus lives in the skin and is activated by injury.

CLOUDY DISTORTED VISION

R. H. writes: What are the symptoms of a detached retina?

REPLY

Loss of vision, often described as a dark cloud before the eye. Objects may appear distorted initially. Many victims tell of seeing flashes of light when the retina is going through the process of detaching itself from the back of the eye.

LUNG INFECTION

S. M. writes: What is the meaning of active lung pathology?

REPLY

An active infection exists in contrast to a healed lesion in the lung. A tuberculosis lesion, for example, is active when it teems with germs and the individual's sputum test is positive.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

A law case had reached a point where the fair-minded judge advised the defense attorney to withdraw with his client and give him the best advice he could think of. At the end of the fifteen-minute recess the attorney showed up without his client. "Where," queried His Honor, "is the prisoner at the bar?" "He's skipped," said the attorney happily. "That was the best advice I could give him."

General Marshall believed in shutting up shop at Defense Headquarters early every evening. "No man," he insisted, "ever got a good idea sitting at a desk after 4:00 p. m."

A new tenant in a Bronx apartment was astonished when the poodle from next door rang his bell and politely asked if he might borrow a copy of the evening newspaper.

Next day the new tenant told his neighbor, "That dog of yours is the smartest animal I ever saw."

"Don't let him fool you," sneered the neighbor. "All he does is look at the comics."

Hippos often have skin two inches thick—nature item. No wonder they always look so calm—tough to get under their hides!

There are 15 billion acres under cultivation throughout the world, we read. That should answer the old question: How's crops?

For Variety In Menus Try Foods From Sicily

Sicily is an enchanting romantic island at the tip of Italy's boot. Citrus fruit, olive groves and vegetables grow in abundance. Almond trees brighten the southern slopes. Some of the world's finest pistachio nuts come from its orchards. The soil is friendly to the grape and many delicious dessert wines are produced here, "Marsala" being the most renowned.

The American tourist fondly remembers the spicy, aromatic foods of this, and other regions of southern Italy. You can easily enjoy a visit to Sicily — at your table — with this festive family meal:

Olive Siciliane e Caponata
Arancini Sicilani
Etna Bianco Wine
Provolone e Finocchio

The caponata is a delicious eggplant appetizer. It is available, already canned, at local stores where imported Italian foods are sold.

Once you've tried Provolone and finocchio (fennel) you'll marvel at how well this sharp, semi-soft cheese, and crisp, crunchy finocchio combine to give a savory finishing touch to a hearty Sicilian meal!

Arancini Siciliani
(Stuffed rice balls Sicilian style)

1 cup imported Italian rice
4 cups water
2 tablespoons Italian olive oil
¼ lb. prosciutto, chopped
¼ lb. chopped beef
1 small onion, minced
½ cup dried Italian mushrooms
Salt and pepper to taste
2 tablespoons imported tomato paste
½ cup butter
⅓ cup imported Parmesan cheese, grated
2 egg yolks
1 whole egg, plus 2 tablespoons water, beaten together
1 cup bread crumbs
1 cup Italian olive oil

Cook rice in 4 cup of water till tender. Do not overcook. Drain. In a small skillet, heat 2 tablespoons olive oil. Saute prosciutto, beef, onion and mushrooms which have previously been soaked in warm water, squeezed and chopped. When meat is brown add salt and pepper to taste; stir in tomato paste. Add a few tablespoons of hot water, if necessary, to simmer meat about 20 minutes.

While rice is still warm blend in butter, cheese, egg yolks and liquid from meat mixture. Chill rice about ½ hour to facilitate handling. Place about 1½ tablespoons of rice in palm of hand. Make a dent with back of spoon. Fill with 1 teaspoon meat. Top with an additional 1½ tablespoons rice; shape into a ball the size of a small orange. Roll in beaten egg, then in bread crumbs. Chill. Fry in very hot olive oil until golden brown. Serve hot or cold. Makes 18-20 balls to serve 4-6 as a main dish.

Olive Siciliane
(Olives Sicilian style)

1 lb. imported Italian green olives (about 2 cups)
1 medium carrot, thinly sliced
1 clove garlic, minced
4-5 stalks celery, finely diced
1 small onion, thinly sliced
½ cup capers
¼ teaspoon fennel seed
1 teaspoon fresh black pepper
½ cup Italian olive oil
1 tablespoon wine vinegar

Pound olives to open and flatten them slightly. Remove pits if desired. Place ingredients in a bowl. (Add salt if necessary.) Mix well. Let stand at least 24 hours in refrigerator before serving.

This is a wonderful addition to a green salad; also excellent with cold ham. May be kept in jars in refrigerator indefinitely. Makes about 3 cups.

Golden Tartar Sauce

⅓ cup mayonnaise
1 tablespoon mustard
3 tablespoons finely diced celery
1 tablespoon finely diced dill pickle
1 tablespoon diced pimiento
2 teaspoons instant minced onion

Mix together in a bowl the mayonnaise, mustard, celery, dill pickle, green pepper, pimiento, and minced onion. Chill. Makes ¾ cup.

Blueburger Steaks Fit Any Budget

Economical meals need not be skimpy.

For example, if sirloin steak or dinner sounds too expensive, serve blueburger steak. This interesting entree is budget priced.

Here, ground beef is formed into patties with egg, bread crumbs, and crumbled American blue cheese. This distinctively flavored cheese, though a gourmet fo is popularly priced. It adds just the right amount of pungency to the ground beef.

BLUEBURGER STEAKS
(Four servings)

2 pounds ground beef
1 egg
¼ cup coarse dry bread crumbs
½ teaspoon hot pepper sauce
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
1 beef bullion cube
Water
1 4-ounce can mushrooms, liquid drained and saved
½ cup crumbled American blue cheese (about 3 ounces)

Mix beef, egg, crumbs and hot pepper sauce lightly. Form into eight patties. Crumble blue cheese on four patties. Top with remaining patties, pressing edges together to seal in cheese. Brown on both sides in butter. Remove meat and blend in flour. Combine mushroom liquid bouillon cube and enough boiling water to make 2 cups. Add to pan and cook until thickened and smooth. Add mushrooms and heat 5 minutes. Return blueburgers to gravy and heat thoroughly.

Cottage cheese is an excellent food for all ages because it is easily digested, nutritious and versatile. The new sturdy plastic packages for cottage cheese are table-ready, which is the popular trend for many foods.

Pan-Fried Fillets

1 pound fresh or frozen haddock fillets
¼ cup shortening
⅓ cup milk
1 tablespoon mustard
⅓ cup fine dry cracker crumbs
1 teaspoon seasoning salt
1 teaspoon paprika
⅛ teaspoon black pepper

Thaw frozen fish as directed on package. Cut into serving-size pieces. Heat shortening in large skillet. Combine milk in a small mixing bowl. Mix together cracker crumbs, salt, paprika, and black pepper. Dip pieces of fish into milk-mustard mixture then into crumb mixture. Fry pieces in hot shortening 8 to 10 minutes or until pieces are browned and cooked through. Serve with mustard Tartar Sauce. 3 to 4 servings.

Capitol Comment

by Rep. Charles Mathias

During the first year and a half of his administration, President Kennedy has quite rightly emphasized that the foreign relations of the United States are the most important problem facing the Nation and indeed the whole free world. He is reported to spend more of his own time on foreign affairs than on any other single field of problems. Accordingly, we are deeply concerned that the President shall have the very best help available to him as he faces these serious responsibilities which are his. The country fortunately possesses an asset of inestimable value for the President to use in dealing with the day-to-day problems of the cold war. I refer, of course, to that body of dedicated professionals who comprise the Foreign Service of the United States. These men and their families, coming from every State in the Nation and from every background imaginable, serve in every country of the world, providing the President and the Secretary of State detailed and up-to-the minute information on all the economic and political developments in their countries of assignment. I am told that morale in the career Foreign Service has never been lower, and that if drastic improvements in the administration of the Foreign Service are not made soon, the effective operation of the Foreign Service will be endangered.

It is not hard to find out upon inquiry why even men of the stoutest heart wonder how long they can go on serving the Government of the United States in the Foreign Service. I am told that more than 200 Foreign Service officers in the middle grades are presently without assignments. They have been told that there are no present prospects of assignment. I cannot believe that there are no problem areas in the world which could use the skills of these experienced officers. I ask whether this is effective manpower utilization?

The efficient operation of the Foreign Service depends above all on having the right man in the right place at the right time. It is an enormously difficult management job requiring the utmost skill to have available at the right time officers who have the language skills and the necessary knowledge of the political and economic conditions in the areas. Moreover, each officer who is reassigned requires a replacement, and that replacement requires a replacement, and so on; so that it is impossible to interrupt the orderly reassignment of officers without bringing chaos to the service at every one of the posts it staffs. The Department stipulates this danger in the travel curtailment announcement. In that announcement the Department stated a realization of the "potential impact of this step on post staffing in terms of double incumbencies and/or overlong vacancies and personal plans . . ."

In addition to the needs of the service for efficient reassignment, consider closely the effect on the foreign service families involved. Many have served in hardship posts for long periods of time without rest or recreation, nearly all have children who must be transferred from one school to another when they change posts, many have deferred medical attention which can be gotten only in the United States, plans are made to attend service courses which will increase the officer's skill, perhaps teach him new languages needed at his next post, and plans must be made in advance to house the families while they are here in the United States.

All the careful planning and all the reassignments which were scheduled to take place between January 31st and the new fiscal year beginning July 31st, will now have to be scrapped.

I am sure that the Congress last year appropriated enough money to operate the foreign service in the normal way. There seems no question however, that these funds, which were appropriated to take care of the legitimate travel needs of the career foreign service, were spent without any thought for the morrow. Can it be that the Department takes it for granted that we shall always bear the burden for an effective Foreign Service Corps through supplemental appropriations. If we are to make such appropriations to cover unanticipated expenses—that is one thing—but if we are to make them to rectify misdirection and careless planning of appropriated funds that is quite another matter.

In these times of constant international crisis, the American people have a right to expect no less than an efficient Foreign Service, and the Foreign Service has a right to expect no less and asks no more than the tools to do its difficult task.

If you haven't time to dampen and iron clothes in the usual way, rub a moistened cloth or your wet hand over the surface quickly, so the water doesn't really soak the clothes, but covers the whole surface. Then roll in airtight plastic bag for a few minutes while iron heats.

"I can't remember the name, but they're little, white, round pills."

Put stale bread to use by making croutons of the center by baking 15 minutes in a slow oven. Save crusts for bread-crumb toppings or for using as a frying crust.

Scrambled eggs are delightful if a small amount of cottage cheese is added when eggs are partially set. Be sure to use very low heat.

Zesty Mushroom Appetizers

2 cans (6 oz. each) broiled mushroom crowns
2 Tbsp. catsup
1 tsp. dehydrated onion flakes
1 tsp. Steak Sauce
½ jar (2½ oz.) bacon'n cheese spread

Remove mushroom centers with ball cutter or knife. Chop finely and set aside in small bowl. Combine catsup, onion flakes and Steak Sauce and allow to stand for 5 minutes. Stir into cheese which has been allowed to stand until it reaches room temperature. Add chopped mushrooms and stir again. Use mixture to fill hollowed-out mushrooms, using about 1 tsp. of filling for each mushroom crown. Place on cookie sheet and bake in preheated 375° oven, or broil under moderate heat until cheese melts and mushrooms are thoroughly hot—about 5 minutes. Serve piping hot with toothpicks or canape spears. Makes 36 appetizers.

Make coaster sets, for your own home or for gifts, by cutting out circles of felt in a decor-matching color. Rubber cement them to circles of foam rubber sheeting for backing. Decorate with purchased gold or silver initials.

Norway Sardine Macaroni Casserole

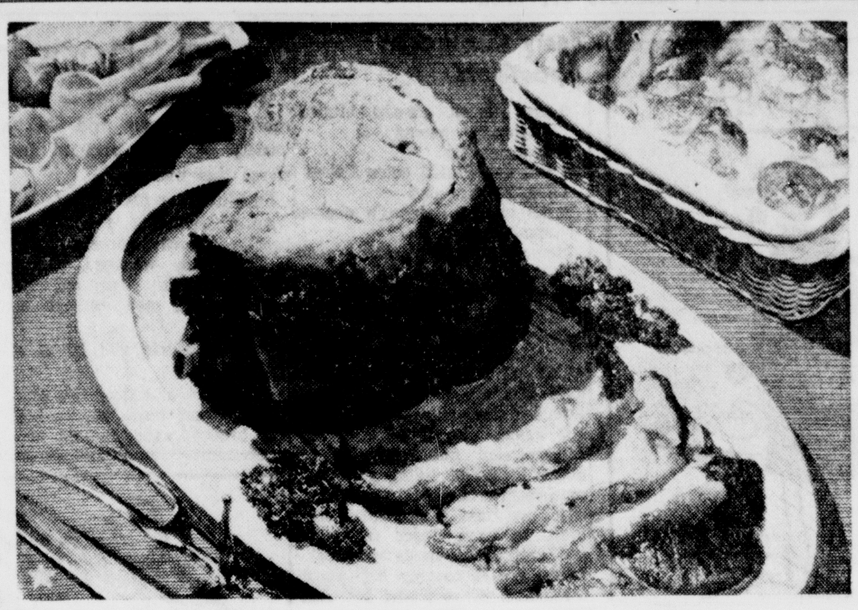
Here's a dish ideal for meatless menus. Aside from its economical advantage and savory flavor, Norway sardines and macaroni casserole boasts the ease of preparation which homemakers can rely on with convenient canned products, in this case Norway sardines and tomato sauce.

Ingredients

2 (3¾ oz.) cans Norway sardines
1 (8 oz.) package macaroni
½ green pepper
¼ lb. American cheese sliced
1 (4 oz.) can tomato sauce
seasoning to taste

Butter a medium casserole or baking dish. Cook macaroni according to package directions and drain when tender. Finely chop the green pepper. In the casserole, arrange a layer of macaroni and top with half the amount of the above ingredients, reserving the Tomato sauce, in this order: sardines, chopped green pepper and cheese. Season to taste. Repeat procedure, reserving half can of sardines, and ending with top layer of cheese. Arrange remaining sardines in the shape of a star on top of cheese and pour over tomato sauce. Bake for 45 minutes in moderate oven (375-degree F.). Yields 4 generous servings.

Columbus, on his first voyage of discovery, came with 120 men in three ships.



Beef Rib Roast Is Fine Choice

An aristocrat of beef dishes is the standing rib roast. This cut is a favorite as a main dish for family meals, anniversary dinners or when entertaining your most special guests.

A beef rib roast is a tender cut and so easy to prepare. A 2 or 3-rib roast will provide several generous servings, the number of course depending upon the weight of the roast. A good guide is to allow ⅓ to ½ pound uncooked meat for each serving. It is easy to prepare because you simply place the roast in the oven and cook it, at a low temperature, until it reaches the degree of doneness you prefer.

To make the roast easier to carve, have the chine bone removed at the market.

Place the roast, fat side up, on a rack in an open oven roasting pan. Insert meat thermometer so that the bulb reaches the center of the thickest part. Be sure that the bulb does not rest in fat or on bone. Do not add water. Do not cover. Roast in a slow oven (300° F.) to the desired degree of doneness. Allow 18 to 20 minutes per pound for cooking a rare roast; 22 to 25 minutes for medium and 27 to 30 minutes per pound for well done.

A favorite accompaniment for roast beef is Yorkshire Pudding. Many families reserve this combination for meals during Christmas and New Year's holidays, but it is good at any season.

Yorkshire Pudding is cooked in the drippings after the roast has been removed. Since a beef roast is easier to carve if allowed to stand for a short time before it is served, the pudding can be made during this time.

Sift together 1 cup sifted enriched flour and add 1 teaspoon salt. Gradually add 1 cup of milk, stirring to form a smooth paste. Beat 2 eggs and add to the mixture. Pour off the drippings from the roasting pan and measure back 3 tablespoons into the roasting pan or into an 8 by 8-inch baking dish. Pour in the batter. Bake in a hot oven (400° F.) for 30 to 40 minutes. Cut into squares and serve hot.

Chipte

(Meat Balls—Assyrian Style)

2½ lbs. ground beef
½ lb. ground lamb
2 medium onions
2 Tbsps. Steak Sauce
2 tsps. salt
2 tsps. black pepper
½ c. milk
2 raw eggs
⅛ lb. butter
2 tsps. paprika
1 can (19 oz.) tomatoes
4 c. water
8 hard boiled eggs (shelled)
¾ c. washed rice

Mix ground beef and lamb well together. Dice one onion and mix with meat. Add Steak Sauce, salt, pepper, milk and eggs. Mix well until meat holds together.

Place butter in large heavy skillet and fry second onion (diced) until transparent. Add paprika and tomatoes and cook until medium thick. Add 4 cups water. When almost at boiling point, add all meat balls as follows:

Form meat mixture into large balls about the size of an apple. Mold each gently around one hard boiled egg, being careful to seal meat around egg. Drop all meat balls gently into sauce. Bring to a boil and add rice. Lower heat and cook until rice is tender.

Serve in soup bowls — sauce and one or two meat balls per person. Good with French bread or rolls.

PRUNE MEAT PATTIES

NEW YORK (UPI) — Prune meat patties stretch 1 pound of ground beef into 6 servings. To 1 beaten egg, add 1-3 cup of seasoned dry bread crumbs, ¼ cup of milk, ½ teaspoon of salt, a dash of pepper and a pinch of oregano. Mix well. Add 1 pound of ground beef. Stir with fork to blend. Divide into 6 equal portions. Mold each around a pitted prune. Dot with butter and broil to desired doneness, turning to brown both sides.

Good Time For Baking New Breads

If you bake yeast breads occasionally, no better time can be chosen for a baking session than a cold day when it is fun to stay indoors.

When it is blustery out - of - doors, the delightful aroma of baking bread indoors can't be beat.

Next time you plan to bake a fruited bread such as raisin, add a touch of imagination to it by crumbling some American blue cheese into the dough. It lends a distinctive, pungent taste that is delicious.

Here, for example, is a recipe for a blue cheese raisin bread which uses only a half cup of the blue-marbled cheese. It not only flavors the bread but gives it an interesting streaked effect.

BLUE CHEESE RAISIN BREAD

(9 by 5 by 3 inch loaf)

1 cup milk, scalded
¼ cup shortening
1 cake compressed yeast
1 tablespoon sugar
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup crumbled American blue cheese (about 3 oz.)
½ teaspoon cinnamon
½ cup raisins
About 3 cups flour

Add shortening to scalded milk; cool to lukewarm. Add crumbled yeast, sugar and salt; stir until dissolved. Stir in blue cheese and raisins, half the flour and the cinnamon. Beat well; work in remaining flour. Knead until smooth and elastic, about 10 minutes. Place dough in greased bowl, cover with cloth and let rise in warm place until doubled in bulk. Punch down and knead again. Shape into a loaf and place in well greased 9 by 5 by 3 inch loaf pan. Let rise in warm place once more until doubled in bulk. Bake at 375 degrees 50 to 60 minutes, or until golden brown and crusty.

SHERRIED SCRAMBLES

NEW YORK (UPI) — Sherry scrambled eggs are easy to prepare. Break eggs into a bowl, beat lightly with a fork and cook in skillet or double boiler. As eggs cook, stir in 1 teaspoon of cooking sherry for each egg used. Because cooking wines contain salt, you may need to adjust seasoning accordingly.

Unusual One-Room School Functions For Hospital Patients In Manhattan

NEW YORK (UPI)—The one-room school has all but disappeared from the American scene. But there still are a few around and one can be found, of all places, in the heart of Manhattan.

It is a special purpose school for special students: long-term hospital patients who are unable to attend regular classes.

On the fifth floor of the Hospital for Special Surgery, in the fashionable East 70s overlooking the East River, is an airy, brightly lighted room with green "blackboard," tile floors, bookcases, a globe and a teacher's desk. Big gold letters on the door read: "P.S. (public school) 401 Manhattan."

P.S. 401's only room is typical of hundreds of other classrooms in New York City's vast school system except that it has no student desks. The reason does not become apparent until the students report for classes.

Several roll themselves into the room in wheelchairs. Others, carried on portable stretchers, are wheeled in by their nurses or one of the teachers. For these students, their wheelchairs and stretchers are their "desks."

Three Levels

The hospital school has three teachers, one for primary students, one for intermediate (junior high school) grades and one for high school students.

Teaching, for the most part, is on an individual basis and classroom-wide lessons are very rare. The reason is that P.S. 401's 10 or 12 students vary widely in age and educational background.

"Individual planning and detailed programs of self-study are our principal methods," said Ethel K. Fox, P. S. 401's secondary teacher.

Though the teaching is individual, Miss Fox said, the course work is standard. It is the same as in other New York City schools and students must pass the regular end-of-term Regents examinations required of all New York State students.

Students in P.S. 401 and several other in-hospital schools in New York can't attend regular schools for periods of many months and, in some cases, years. How do they fare under this special teaching set-up?

Keeps Students Abreast

Miss Fox, who founded the first hospital secondary school 20 years ago, said: "I have never heard of any child who did not graduate with his class."

For some youngsters, whose medical problems prevent them even from going to the hospital classroom, P.S. 401 comes to their bedside. Miss Fox, or one of the other teachers, sits in a chair by the child's bed and listens to recitation or explains a problem. The student, perhaps in a heavy body cast, lies back surrounded by a pile of textbooks, notebooks and other school equipment.

P.S. 401 schedules regular graduation ceremonies in the hospital auditorium for its student-patients when they finish grade, junior high or high school. Parents and friends are invited.

At one of these graduations, a teen-age girl, an amputee waiting to be fitted with artificial limbs, gave the "valedictory" address. The girl, wearing the traditional white organdy dress with a corsage of red roses pinned to her shoulder, spoke on the subject: "The advantages and opportunities of being an American."

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Let Flowers Become Part Of A Lovely Effect

Unless you've learned the secret of handling a bouquet, there is nothing more shattering than to discover at the last moment that you really don't know what to do with your fliwers. But it's a fate you'll escape, if you string along with today's lesson.

First off, think of your bouquet as a very vital part of the lovely picture you hope to make. Plot how you can carry it so that it will add something to the composition and not detract from it. The cardinal error in holding a bouquet of any size or shape is to clutch it.

The second mistake is to hide your hands in or behind your flowers. Unless you've had art or modeling training, you may never have realized that your hands give a tapering finish to your body lines. Consequently, cutting them off gives a stubby appearance.

Third, and a very subtle but essential detail, is the angle and level at which you hold a bouquet. To get the full benefit of the instruction on this point, devise a "bouquet" of newspaper in a shape similar to one you expect to carry, and stand in front of your mirror.

In the case of a long spray, rest the hand that carries it lightly against the body at waist level, palm up, at a point about half way between the center front and the side. Be sure that your wrist takes an upward turn and that your elbow is in a straight line with your shoulder joint—pulled neither backward nor forward. Now, with a light touch, rest your flowers along your forearm so that you can anchor them toward one end in the crook of your elbow and clasp the stemps in your upturned fingers, letting your thumb and forefinger remain visible. If your free hand is not to rest on the arm of an escort, place it palm down, fingers gracefully curved on the top of the stems.

The stems of an old-fashioned bouquet or a cascade should be clasped between your thumb and forefinger, with your palm turned down so that only the outside curve of your hand shows. When both are used, clasp your fingers together around the stems.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♥	1 ♠	Pass	Pass
Double	Pass	2 ♥	Pass
3 ♥	Pass	4 ♥	Pass
Pass	Pass

Opening lead: King of ♠

Proper discarding instead of being a dull chore can actually prove to be a work of art. Observe the following case.

The bidding was sound. When West's one spade overcall was passed back to South, the opening bidder doubled to inform partner that he had a very good hand. North dutifully bid two hearts, and now South proceeded cautiously to three inasmuch as his partner might have little or nothing. Holding an ace and four trumps, North ventured on to game.

West opened the king of spades and continued the suit. On the third round declarer ruffed in as East threw off a diamond. Trumps were cleared in two rounds and there appeared to be nothing further to the hand than to take a diamond finesse. However, South saw that there was nothing to lose by running several extra rounds of trump first. Who knows what a careless opponent might reveal?

On the fourth heart, West let loose the deuce of clubs, and on the fifth and sixth rounds he discarded first the three of diamonds and then the seven of clubs. Declarer now cashed the king of clubs followed by the ace. When West showed out on the second club, throwing a spade, his entire distribution was revealed.

He had started with five spades, two hearts, three clubs, and therefore three diamonds. Since he had discarded only one diamond, he still had two left in his hand. It was routine for South to exit from dummy with the nine of spades and present West with the lead to force a return into the ace-queen of diamonds.

Had West discarded one card in each side suit, retaining two clubs, South would have been unable to gain an accurate count of the hand, and in all probability would have fallen back on the diamond finesse as a last resort.

A recent study shows that mothers who have had many babies need not fear complications in the birth of another child, "Obstetrics and Gynecology," a medical journal, reports.

West Virginia Plans Second Conference On Wood Utilization Next October

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Gov. W. W. Barron's Committee on Wood Utilization Tuesday selected Walter C. Gumbel, Fairmont, as executive secretary and agreed to hold a second statewide conference here next October.

Gumbel, an area redevelopment representative of Monongahela Power Co., will handle the committee's administrative affairs. The committee said the October Conference would be a workshop affair. It will be held in the Charleston Civic Center like the first conference last year.

A four - member committee made the following recommendations on seven areas of wood industry development in which the committee should work. They include:

— Climate and direction — Create a "wood image" and determine the need and climate for wood industry development.

— Developments, markets and promotion — Find new markets and how and by whom wood products can be created.

— Research — New uses for low grade woods, creation of new products, better marketing and promotion.

— Education — Job training for skilled and unskilled workers, training schools.

— Financing — Determine what can be done to clarify financing methods and coordinate all available sources.

Why so many farmers and ranchers plant money in U.S. Savings Bonds

Ever since the Savings Bond Program began, these folks have been among its best customers. In fact ⅓ of all cash reserves owned by U.S. farmers and ranchers is invested in U.S. Savings Bonds.

Bonds for Business

Bonds owned by the millions of people who run our farms have their work cut out for them. They replace machinery. Pay for new land. Provide insurance against the risks of farming.

They get personal assignments, too, like replacing the old homestead, sending the kids to college, and making life more comfortable when the tractor lumbers into the barn for the last time.

U.S. Savings Bonds are a "crop that never fails," guaranteed by the U.S. Government to grow. $18.75 becomes $25 in 7 years, 9 months. In 10 more years, it becomes $36.25. They can be cashed in anytime, with interest. And if they're lost or destroyed, the Treasury Department replaces them free.

Why America's Prominent Farm Groups Support The Savings Bond Program

James G. Patton, President, National Farmers Union, says: "Savings Bonds are an excellent means of providing for a family's security, and will continue to be a part of our efforts toward a better agriculture and a stronger nation."

Chas. B. Shuman, President, American Farm Bureau Federation, says: "Farmers have always been strong supporters of The Savings Bond Program. Their current investment of $5 billion is a tribute both to their thrift habits and to Bonds."

Herschel D. Newsom, Master, The National Grange, says: "Savings Bonds are an investment in America. Farmers—like all Americans—buy them, assured that they are making an indestructible investment."

U.S. Savings Bonds

Buy them where you work or bank

20th ANNIVERSARY 1941 ★ 1961

For 20 years America's newspapers have published Savings Bonds ads at no cost to the Government. The Treasury Dept. is grateful to The Advertising Council and this newspaper for their patriotic support.

Dr. Grove Head Of CUF Health Fund

Dr. Donald B. Grove, local physician, Tuesday was elected president of the Health Research and Services Foundation of County United Fund at the agency's annual board meeting held in the Liberty Trust building.

Dr. Grove succeeds Dr. A. J. Mirkin as president of the organization, which was established to service all health needs in Mineral and Allegany counties and to provide funds for health research.

Other officers elected were J. Kenna Burke, vice president; Roy T Satzer, secretary; Winfield H. Adam, assistant secretary; Dr. W. Royce Hodges, treasurer, and William R. Carscaden, assistant treasurer. Dr. Hodges served as treasurer last year, also, and Adam was reelected to the assistant secretary post.

Board members, whose terms expire in 1965, also were elected Tuesday. They are Marvin Clark, Dr. H. W. Eliason, Dr. Wylie M. Faw, Jr., Denton A. Fuller, Dr. Grove, William A. Hersh, Dr. Hodges, William S. Jenkins, Dr. Robert W. McCoy Jr., Dr. Mirkin, and John A. Moberly.

Though a diamond is the hardest known natural substance, it could be even harder. Diamond atoms are loosely arranged compared to those in many metals; less than half the available space is used. A diamond would be denser if individual atoms in its latticelike structure were surrounded, not by 4, but by 12 equidistant atoms as in hard metals.

Oil Painting Collection Being Shown At College

FROSTBURG—Frostburg State Teachers College is currently showing a collection of oil paintings by Dr. Roger Moore of Syracuse, N. Y. The display is in Gunter Hall and is open to the public daily from 2 until 4 p.m.

"The oils are done in a semi-abstract style and are outstanding examples of landscape painting," Dr. James W. Crawford, chairman of the college art department said. "Especially noteworthy is the sensitive handling of color and the expressive brushwork."

Dr. Moore spent his boyhood on a farm in Pompey Hollow near Cazenovia, N. Y. As a senior in high school, he won first prize in painting and first prize in drawing at the Regional Scholastic Art Exposition at the Syracuse Museum of Fine Arts. He subsequently won a scholarship to the Portland School of Art and accepted a full-tuition scholarship to the Syracuse University School of Art.

After receiving his Bachelor of Fine Arts degree in painting in 1952, he served two years with the army in Korea and was decorated for meritorious service.

Dr. Moore became interested in medicine during the Korean conflict and upon his discharge, began pre-medical study and then was enrolled in the State University of New York Medical Center at Syracuse. Since graduation in June, 1960, Dr. Moore has been interning at St. Joseph's Hospital in Syracuse.

Despite his deep interest in his new profession, Dr. Moore continues to paint vigorously. His works have been on exhibit at Syracuse University, the Syracuse Museum of Fine Arts, Carnegie Institute, the Highgate Gallery, Upper Montclair, N. J., and several other galleries in New Jersey.

Jury Unable To Agree In Assault Case Against Northern High School Teacher

OAKLAND—A jury hearing an assault charge against a member of the faculty of Northern High School at the Cove was unable to agree in Garrett County Circuit Court after deliberating for about an hour and a half.

Lilburn Brown, the teacher, was accused of assault on a student, Richard A. Ur[illegible] bysport, several months ago while administering "a paddling" insubordination.

The teacher testified that the boy refused to do "push ups" in a physical education class. The boy told the jurors that he was "too sore to do the calisthenics."

Brown took the youth to a room and in the presence of another teacher, Jack Lear, administered "five licks with a paddle," it was testified. Brown was defended by Attorney Fred A. Thayer while State's Attorney W. Dwight Stover presented the state's case. Associate Judge Stuart F. Hamill Jr., presided.

In another criminal case yesterday the court found William George Porter, 46, Gnegy Church, guilty on three counts in an indictment on morals charges and was sentenced by Judge Hamill to four years in the House of Correction. Judge Hamill recommended that Porter be sent to Patuxent Institute for treatment.

Judge Hamill ordered a presentence investigation by James Lewis, state probation officer, of the background of Wilbert Clinton Durst, of the Swanton area, who pled guilty to larceny and receiving stolen goods. Durst was accused of stealing some items from a vacant house in the Swanton section.

Two motorists accused of state motor law violations were each fined $100 and costs by Judge Hamill. They are Harold Edward Madigan, Baltimore, and Henry Owen Martin Jr., Gormania.

Emlen Tunnell Quits Football

Defensive Halfback Of Packers Is 40

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Green Bay Packer defensive halfback Emlen Tunnell, a veteran of 14 seasons in the National Football League, had a prebirthday announcement Wednesday night: He's retiring.

Tunnell, who will be 40 Thursday, said: "When that kid Conerly — 40-year-old Charley Conerly of the New York Giants—decided to hang it up, I made up my mind." Tunnell and Conerly joined New York as rookies in 1948.

Tunnell said he will continue in the league as scout for both the Packers and the Giants. "The commissioner has okayed this set-up," Em said.

He played college ball at Toledo University in 1942 before going into the service. After his discharge he played at Iowa. The NFL record book shows he leads the league with 79 interceptions and in punt returns with 258.

Only three players have been active in the league longer than Tunnell's 14 years. Sammy Baugh was quarterback for the Washington Redskins for 16 years while Packer halfback Johnny Blood and New York center Mel Hein put in 15 years each.

Cresaptown Evens Fort Hill Series

Wise Potato Chips edged Power's Towing Center, 54-52, last night to gain the finals in the High School Rec Basketball League playoffs, sweeping two straight games to eliminate the losers at Fort Hill High School gym.

Wise's took a 13-8 first quarter lead and held a 31-21 edge at halftime, then barely held off Power's closing rush in the second half to win. High man for Wise's was Miller with 16 points. Tops for Power's was Barmoy with 25 tallies.

150 Golfers To Tee Off Today In Azalea Open

$20,000 Purse Is Largest In History

WILMINGTON, N. C. (UPI) — A field of about 140 professionals and 10 amateurs will tee off Thursday in the 14th annual Azalea Open golf tournament, the final tuneup before the Masters.

Jerry Barber, 1961 PGA winner, is defending champion in the Azalea, which this year is offering a $20,000 purse, largest in its history. Last year's prize money totaled $12,500.

The 72-hole Azalea competition will be played over the tricky Cape Fear Country Club course and will continue through Sunday.

Barber, the little man with the big swing, has an intimate knowledge of the course which should help him defend his title against such challengers as 1961 Open winner Gene Littler and last year's Masters champion Gary Player. The Masters will be played at Augusta on April 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th.

Several other contestants in the open will be looking for their second victory. They include Tom Nieporte, 1960 winner, Art Wall Jr., who took first prize money in 1959, Howie Johnson, 1958 winner, and Billy Maxwell, the 1955 champion.

Barber can also expect stiff competition from Jay Hebert, 1961 American Golf Classic winner and 1960 PGA champ, and his brother Lionel Hebert, 1957 PGA winner. Also entered are Dave Marr, Doug Ford and an imposing array of younger pros.

Dietzel Is Not Opposed To Army Playing In Bowl

NEW YORK (AP)—Paul Dietzel, who has been spoiled by a steady bowl diet during his coaching career, is not opposed to a postseason game for Army — under certain circumstances.

"First of all, Army people would have to want the game," the new head coach at West Point said Wednesday. "Our team would have to be an outstanding one. And the players themselves would have to be given the right to vote 'yes' or 'no.'"

Army traditionally has remained aloof from bowl games but in recent years the resistance has been wavering.

Young Pitchers, Better Defense With Eddie Bressoud Give Red Sox Rosier Outlook-But Power Is All Gone

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the last in a series on the major league teams.

By WALTER JOHNS
Central Press Sports Editor

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. — The power-laden Red Sox of yesterday are no more, for even Jackie Jensen is gone now, and the 1962 club will do it with a young and promising pitching staff and what shapes up as a fine infield.

Sixth last year under Mike Higgins, who is back again, the Bosox came up with two of the league's brighter young stars second baseman Charles Schilling and the lanky young pitcher, Don Schwall, who won 15 games for this big club after starting out with Seattle.

Inability to beat the Yankees and Indians cost the Red Sox some face last year (26 losses and only 10 wins) and Higgins hopes he can plug some holes which may make the difference this season.

Defense Is Good

"Our defense is going to be good," Mike said in camp here, "and I think Eddie Bressoud (from the Giants) is going to do a helluva job for us. With Pete Runnels on first, Schilling with a year under his belt at second, Bressoud at short and Frank Malzone at third our inner defense is bound to be better."

"Pitching on this club should be better, too," Mike continued, "and right now it's a question of finding a little punch to go with it."

One of the young pitchers who is counted on to make the starting group, which includes Schwall, Gene Conley, Bill Monboquette and Tracy Stallard, is the former Ohio State footballer, Galen Cisco, stocky righ-hander who was recalled from Seattle in midseason last year after he had compiled a 6-1 mark for the Rainiers.

"Cisco didn't do much last year after we recalled him," explained Mike, "but he sure looks better this spring." Cisco, who says he didn't get loosened up after coming to the big leagues last year, already has hurled 11 innings this spring, against power-loaded teams, and has given up only one run.

Radatz Scales 235

Another young pitching hopeful is Dick Radatz, a Michigan State grad and a teacher in the off season. Radatz, who is 6'5" tall and weighs 235 pounds, is on the Seattle roster but has been one of the hits of the camp. He may be used in relief along with Mike Fornieles.

The Sox have other young pitchers and of this group Dave Busby, who was 21-7 at Waterloo, and Stew MacDonald, who split last season with Alpine and Seattle, have shown the best.

"Both Bob Tillman and Jim Pagliaroni can hit the hell out of the ball from the right side," said Higgins, who explained that the 1961 batting averages of these two don't tell the true story. Pagliaroni, who was with the Bosox last year, finished with .242, and Tillman, who is a 6'4" giant, hit a putrid .215 at Seattle. The third catcher is Russ Nixon, who had a .289 mark for the Bosox last year.

The Red Sox outfield is made up of Lou Clinton, Gary Geiger and Carl Yastzemski. Others are Carroll Hardy and two rookies, Pete Jernigan, from Waterloo, and Larry Wieck, from Alpine.

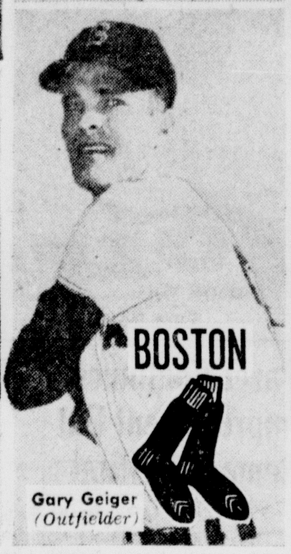
Higgins Likes Geiger

Geiger, a skinny guy as power hitters go, led the Red Sox in home runs last year with 18 but he went through a slump and batted only .232. Higgins will tell you he's a better hitter than that.

Yastzemski, who came up with all the publicity as a can't miss new Williams, had a rough time of it in the early months last year and hit only .266.

One of the bright young prospects in camp, the youngest player at 18, is Dalton Jones, a shortstop, who was scouted by Terrific Ted and then sizzled with a fine year at Alpine last season, where he hit .322 in his only year in pro ball.

(Conclusion)



Palmer Takes Over First In Winnings

DUNEDIN, Fla. (UPI) — Arnold Palmer, leading money-winner on last year's Professional Golfers Association circuit, has moved into first place in the 1962 golfing dollar-derby.

By winning $1,230 for his tie for 11th place in last weekend's Doral tournament at Miami, Fla., Palmer took over the 1962 money-winning lead from Gene Littler with a total of $15,408.33, according to unofficial figures released Wednesday by PGA headquarters.

Duc d'Or And Longshot Cop Bay Shore Sections

Favorite, Western Warrior Win Races In Final Strides

NEW YORK (AP) — Favored Duc d'Or and longshot Western Warrior charged home in the final strides to win split sections of the mile Bay Shore Stakes for 3-year old Kentucky Derby-age horses at Aqueduct Wednesday.

Eight started in each division of the race, each worth $21,750, and most of them are eligible for Derby - Preakness-Belmont triple crown. An exception is Western Warrior, who is eligible for the Belmont, can be supplemented to the Preakness, but cannot start in the May 5 derby.

Western Warrior, ridden by Larry Adams, trailed his field until they turned for home. Then he zig-zagged through the leaders and just shoved his nose in front of Mister Pitt, 2-1 favorite, on the wire.

Jockey Ismael Valenzuela just got Duc d'Or home for a neck victory after taking the lead in the final sixteenth. Sidluck was second by a nose over Lucky Uncle. Endymion, second choice at 2-1, was fourth.

Cash's Error Helps Reds Beat Tigers, 4-2

LAKELAND, Fla. (UPI) — The Cincinnati Reds capitalized on Norm Cash's error in the 10th inning Wednesday to put across two unearned runs and beat the Detroit Tigers, 4-2.

Cash dropped Jake Wood's throw on Vada Pinson's grounder to set up the winning runs. Frank Robinson beat out a high hopper for a single and Gordy Coleman followed with a two-out single to right to score Pinson. That cracked a 2-2 tie and Robinson came in with an insurance run on catcher Bill Freehan's passed ball.

Gen. Robert Neyland, Former Tennessee Football Coach, Dies

Produced Top Teams During Long Service

Had Distinguished Career As Engineer, Moulder Of Coaches

NEW ORLANS (AP) — Brig. Gen. Robert R. Neyland, the single-wing wizard who coached Tennessee's Volunteers to football's heights, died Wednesday at the age of 70.

The man who produced some of America's top teams and coaches, in addition to having a distinguished career as an Army engineer, succumbed to the kidney and liver ailment that in 1953 forced his retirement as an active coach after 21 years.

An Ochsner Foundation Hospital spokesman said Neyland, who had been hospitalized Jan. 14 for tests and treatment, lapsed into a coma Tuesday night.

Neyland's Tennessee teams won 171 games, lost 27 and tied 12 during the 21 seasons he coached. His next-to-last team finished No. 1 in the final Associated Press poll in 1951 and won the national championship. Since 1953, he had held a lifetime post as athletic director.

Trained Many Coaches

Among the coaches trained by Neyland were Bowden Wyatt, who carries out the Neyland tradition of single wing powerhouses at Tennessee; Bobby Dodd, the Georgia Tech veteran whose teams rank among the strongest year after year; and the rivals in the 1962 Rose Bowl, Minnesota's Murray Warmath and UCLA's Bill Barnes.

At a time when football went in for the wide-open game, Neyland stuck to emphasis on fundamentals, bone-crunching blocking and hard tackling. Although he made a concession to the times and adopted the two-platoon system — three years after most teams — Neyland continued to teach football the way he had for 20 years. And his teams continued to play the way they had —they won.

Born In Texas

Neyland was born Feb. 17, 1892 in Greenville, Tex. After studying engineering at Texas A&M for a year, he entered the U.S. Military Academy, graduating in 1916.

In 1936, after retiring from the Army, Neyland inherited a Tennessee team that had lost every major game. Starting almost from scratch, he built perhaps his greatest team. Undefeated and untied for three seasons, Neyland's 1938-40 teams played successively in the Orange, Rose and Sugar bowls, making him the first coach to take a team to three major postseason games in a row.

Elected to football's Hall of Fame in 1956, Neyland was picked in 1960 for a four-year term as chairman of the powerful National Collegiate Athletic Association Football Rules Committee.

Neyland, who rose to brigadier general in the Army during World War II, is survived by his widow and two sons.

Funeral services will be held at the Rose Mortuary in Knoxville at 2 p.m. Friday with interment at the U.S. National Cemetery in Knoxville.

WIN 2ND STRAIGHT NCAA TITLE — Here are the University of Cincinnati Bearcats who won the NCAA basketball championship at Louisville by whipping Ohio State, 71-59. It was a repeat of last year's performance when Cincy downed the Buckeyes in the final game, 70-65, in overtime. Paul Hogue, who "stole the show" in the championship battle, is captain of the Bearcats.

Yankees Snap Cards' Streak

Two Homers Give Champs 4-1 Win

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. — (UPI) — Held hitless and scoreless over the first six innings, the New York Yankees erupted with two home runs in the seventh to snap the St. Louis Cardinals' 9-game winning streak Wednesday, 4-1.

Joe Pepitone, rookie first baseman, homered with two on and Cletis Boyer followed with a solo blast over the left field fence to make the first Yankee hits of the day account for four runs.

Lafayette Nine Edges Maryland

Rallies Twice For 10 To 9 Triumph

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—Lafayette College of Easton, Pa. came from behind twice Wednesday to edge the University of Maryland's baseball team, 10-9.

Pitcher David Becker throttled the Terrapins with only hit in the last five and two-thirds innings of play to gain the victory, his first of the season.

But the outstanding individual performance was turned in by Terp third baseman Frank Martz, who drove in six runs with a homer and bases loaded single. Martz powered across four yesterday to help defeat Dartmouth, 12-3, in the season opener.

Both teams bunched their scoring in the middle of the game as Lafayette collected six runs in the fourth at the expense of sophomore hurler Lin Haley.

Maryland came back with five runs in the fifth, as Martz sent starting pitcher Allen Henry to the showers with his timely two-run blow.

The visitors scored three in the seventh on a bases-loaded double by Robert Paulishak, and added one in the eighth on an infield hit and double by Edward Morgan.

Rookie's Hit Gives Twins 7-6 Victory

ORLANDO, Fla. (UPI) — Rich Rollins, fighting for an infield job with the Minnesota Twins, sent a long single against the left field fence to score Bob Allison from third in the ninth inning Wednesday to beat the Pirates, 7-6.

The feature of the game was the pitching of lefty Jim Kaat, who suffered through a five-run fourth inning not all his fault, then proceeded to strike out seven of the next eight batsmen and nine altogether through the sixth frame.

NEW YORK (UPI) —The foreign invasion of major league baseball reaches an all-time peak in 1962.

California still leads the nation in sending its native sons to the majors but for the first time in history there were more foreign-born players on spring rosters than there were natives of any other state.

Reporting at the 20 training camps this spring were 75 Californians, divided almost equally between the two major leagues. There were 71 born outside the United States, giving the "invaders" a wide edge over the second place American state—Pennsylvania, with 59.

They came from Cuba (27), the Dominican Republic (12), Puerto Rico (11), Canada (8), Venezuela (4), the Virgin Islands (3), Panama (2), and one each from Italy, Poland, the Bahamas and Nicaragua.

Three States Unrepresented

Among the 50 United States, Alaska, Hawaii, and Nevada failed to provide at least one representative but Maine, New Hampshire, New Mexico, both Dakotas, Utah, Vermont and Wyoming got there with one man each.

A year ago, when American League expansion brought the major league club total to 18, foreign - born players increased to 55 but Pennsylvania natives still outnumbered them with 57.

But as the National went to 10 clubs this year and the over-all talent pinch became more acute the invasion really took hold.

Pennsylvania's 59 on spring rosters this year still rates second among the United States but third place New York closed the gap with 54 candidates. Illinois was fourth with 47, Ohio fifth with 36, Missouri sixth with 33 and Texas seventh with 31.

Giants Top Listing

Every club in the majors has at least one player born outside the United States.

The San Francisco Giants, with 10, top them all. Among the Giant aces are slugger Orlando Cepeda from Puerto Rico, outfielders Matty and Felipe Alou and pitcher Juan Marichal from the Dominican Republic.

The Minnesota Twins and Kansas City Athletics had seven each on the spring rosters and the Pirates had six.

Among the top hands through the two leagues are Luis Arroyo of the Yankees (Puerto Rico), Hector Lopez of the Yankees (Panama), Luis Aparicio of the White Sox (Venezuela), Vic Power of the Indians (Puerto Rico), Camilo Pascual of the Twins (Cuba), Roberto Clemente of the Pirates (Puerto Rico), and Minnie Minoso of the Cardinals (Cuba).

Wolfner Sues To Set Aside His Wife's Will

CHICAGO (AP)—Walter Wolfner, former managing director of the St. Louis Cardinals football club, sued Wednesday to set aside the heirship of his wife's two adopted sons to her estate.

His petition to Probate Court declared their adoption by Mrs. Violet Bidwill Wolfner and her first husband, the late Charles W. Bidwill, was illegal.

Wolfner asked that his wife's will be set aside. It listed the sons as her legal heirs and left Wolfner a life income from five oil wells.

Senators Send Hurlers Back

POMPANO BEACH (AP)—The Washington Senators sent pitchers John Gabler and Hector Maestri to Syracuse of the International League Wednesday on 24-hour recall, and returned pitcher Carl Mathias and Billy Klaus, utility infielder, to the same club.

Mathias and Klaus had been working out with the Senators, but had signed Syracuse contracts. The Senators have a working agreement with Syracuse.

Donut King Has Fast Workout

NEW YORK (AP)—Donut King, California's leading candidate for the Kentucky Derby, turned in a blazing workout at Aqueduct Wednesday when he stepped a mile in 1:36 under jockey Manuel Ycaza.

Donut King's immediate objective is the $50,000-added Gotham at Aqueduct April 7.

Dave Giusti, Syracuse Collegian, Is Slab Hopeful Of Houston Colts

By WALTER JOHNS
Central Press Sports Editor

APACHE JUNCTION, Ariz. — Jobs on the Houston Colt .45s are wide open and Dave Guisti (Joosty), just recently off the campus at Syracuse University, is first in line among the rookies for one.

Dave, a 22-year-old righthander who likes to cook Italian dishes, pitched a one-hitter in his first professional start and has done well in training camp games, was signed by the Colts only last June 16 after he had played in the college World Series and struck out 14 Western Michigan batters.

His bonus take was around $40,000 and he proved his worth when he turned in a 7-7 record with Jacksonville in the Sally League last summer and then was 2-0 for Houston in the American Association at the end of the year.

In his first game against Asheville, which was in first place, Dave tossed a one-hitter and no ball was hit out of the infield. He got a big thrill again later when he was pitching against Portsmouth, losing 0-2 going into the ninth and he was to be lifted for a pinch-hitter, allowed to stay in and he belted a homer with two on to win the game.

A fine athlete and a scholar at Syracuse, Dave compiled a 19-4 record with the Orange and graduated with a degree in education and was a substitute teacher for a while in science and physical education.

In high school at Mattydale, N. Y., he was 22-1 in four years of baseball, led the county teams in scoring in football as a halfback with 11 touchdowns as a junior and averaged 24 points a game in basketball to lead the county scoring in his junior year.

He has a brother, 17, who also is a fine ball player and led his high school team in batting with a .420 average although he was a freshman playing with upperclassmen.

That bonus money? It was spread out over three years and part of the first hunk, $1,200, went to pay for a major operation bill for his father, who is a carpenter at Syracuse U.

King To Take New Mexico Post

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—Bob King, 38-year-old State University of Iowa assistant basketball coach, will be named head basketball coach at the University of New Mexico if he can get a release from Iowa, The Associated Press learned Wednesday. King, assistant at Iowa the past three years, has been in Albuquerque the past two days for interviews with UNM officials.

Shenandoah Race Dates Are Approved

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—The State Racing Commission approved Wednesday a July 2-Sept. 8 racing meet at Shenandoah Downs at Charles Town.

The commission has not yet granted summer dates to Charles Town Properties, Inc., at the old Charles Town track.

Paret Continues Improvement But Remains Critical

NEW YORK (AP)—Boxer Benny (Kid) Paret is maintaining the slight improvement which he showed Tuesday, a medical bulletin issued by Roosevelt Hospital said late Wednesday.

The bulletin added the condition of the figher, shorn of the world welterweight title and beaten senseless in 12 rounds by Emile Griffith last Saturday, remains critical.

Paret's purse of $50,000—less a $2,000 advance he received to apply to payments on a Miami home—is still waiting for him. It is the largest check Paret ever has earned.

Jerry West's Parents Lose Home In Fire

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard West, parents of basketball star Jerry West, at nearby Chelyan was destroyed by fire Wednesday.

Damage was estimated at $12,000 but nobody was injured in the blaze. Mrs. West and her 14 year old daughter were in the home when the fire broke out in the kitchen.

Mr. West suffered a heart attack several weeks ago and is still in a Charleston hospital.

Bill To Protect Boxers Introduced

BOSTON (AP) — Boxers would be required to wear protective headgear and to use at least 8-ounce gloves under terms of a bill filed with the Massachusetts Legislature Wednesday.

Rep. Walter T. Kostanski, D-Montague, sponsored the bill and said it stemmed from the case of Benny Paret, seriously injured in a New York bout last Saturday.

Four Homers Hit In Exhibition Tilt

POMPANO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles and Washington Senators pulled up 14 hits and 2 home runs each Wednesday, but the Orioles scored 8 runs in the fifth to win 15-7.

Earl Robinson and Gus Triandos homered for the Orioles, John Schaive and Gene Woodling for Washington. Woodling got three hits, the only player with more than two.

Dave Stenhouse, bidding for a starting role with the Senators, yielded Robinson's home run — the only hit in the first four innings. But he was tagged for eight hits before Fred Green relieved him in the fifth with eight runs in and only one out.

Art Quirk went the first six for the Orioles. He was pounded for five runs in the fifth, an inning that produced 13 runs by the two teams.

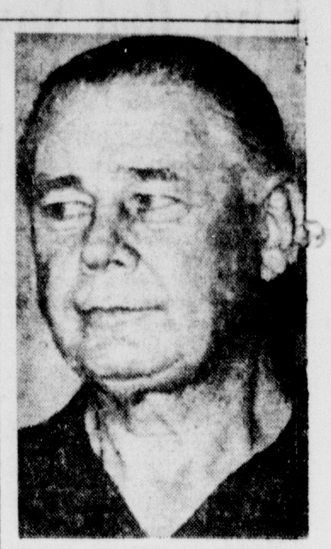
Bucs Win Last Two NL Batting Titles

If a Pirate wins the National League batting championship again in 1962, it will be the first time in 10 years that the hitting crown has remained with the same club three years in a row. In 1950, 1951 and 1952 Stan Musial of the Cards won three successive batting titles with .346, .355 and .336 marks respectively. Never in N.L. history have three different members of one team won three consecutive batting titles, but the Bucs have two legs up on that record right now with Dick Groat winning with .325 in 1960 and Roberto Clemente taking top honors last year with .351.

Quarterback Killed

GALLIANO, La. (AP) — Jack Domingue, 22, Tulane's starting quarterback last season, was killed Wednesday in an accident on an oil rig in the Bay Marchand area of south Louisiana.



SUCCUMBS—Gen. Robert R. Neyland, former University of Tennessee football mentor, died yesterday in New Orleans, La., after a long illness. An engineer, he built a football dynasty with 21 succesful years of coaching, but always retained his love for construction. He was 70.

Red Schoendienst To Become Active Player With Cards

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—Red Schoendienst, who retired as an active player at the end of the 1961 season, probably will be reactivated as a utility infielder with the St. Louis Cardinals, Manager Johnny Keane said Wednesday.

Schoendienst, 39, is listed as a nonplaying coach but he has been used in a pinch-hitting capacity and as a late-inning replacement at second base in exhibition games this spring.

Keane said he planned to make the move a day or two before the season opener April 10.

Doctor To Act As Boxer's Second

NEW YORK (AP) — Henry Hank, Detroit middleweight who meets Dick Tiger of Nigeria at Madison Square Garden Saturday night in the first fight there since the ill-fated Griffith-Paret bout last week, will have a doctor in his corner.

Hank said Wednesday Dr. Robert Bennett of Detroit will act as one of his seconds in the 10-round bout.

Steels Advance Sharply As Stocks Rack Up Gains

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks scored a big gain on small volume Wednesday with steel shares moving sharply higher.

Speculation of an impending steel-wage contract sent the steels ahead shortly after the noon hour. Confirmation that labor and industry had reached a new two-year agreement was not announced until after the market closed.

U.S. Steel rose 1⅛, Bethlehem ⅞, Youngstown 2⅞ Republic 1⅜, Jones & Laughlin 2⅛, Armco 2 and Lukens 2¾ among the major steel issues.

Trading for the day dropped to 2,940,000 shares from 3,090,000 in the prior session and the market was fairly narrow with only 1,296 issues traded. Of these 651 advanced, 50 hitting new highs for the year, and 401 declined, 55 striking new lows.

The inclusive Standard & Poor's 500-stock index showed a gain of 0.34 indicating that round $2.5 billion was added to paper values during the session.

Dow-Jones industrials scored a big gain of 4.97 helped by the jumps in Bethlehem and U.S. Steel as well as a recovery of 2⅜ in hard-hit American Tobacco, and advances of at least a point in International Harvester, Johns-Manville, Procter & Gamble and Union Carbide.

The rail average finished 1.10 higher, featuring a rise of 2¼ in Norfolk & Western. Utilities were down fractionnally, posting a loss of 0.21 in the averages.

Cards Of Thanks

We wish to thank our many friends, neighbors and relatives for their kindness during the illness and following the death of Mrs. Ethel Slingloff. We especially wish to thank Rev. George Le Roy, the pallbearers, the Miners Hospital staff, those who sent floral tributes and loaned their cars for the funeral and all others who in any manner assisted.

THE FAMILY

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. Nellie Ralston, who died 3 years ago, March 29, 1959.
We do not forget you, nor do we intend,
We think of you often & will to the end,
Gone & forgotten by some you may be,
But dear to our memory you ever will be.

HER DAUGHTER & SON-IN-LAW
MR. & MRS. GEO. T. MASON

Suits Filed In Court Here

Three damage suits were filed yesterday in Allegany County Circuit Court.

Charlton Brothers Transportation Company, Inc., Hagerstown, is suing Matthew S. Hemmis, 27 West First Street, city, as a result of an accident here on June 3, 1961.

The plaintiff claims the defendant was driving his car south on River Road, lost control of it, crossed the road into the lane of one of the company's tractor trailers and collided with the trailer causing damages.

In another damage suit Marvin L. Butts, Berkeley Springs, W. Va., for his use and the use of the State Farm Mutual Automobile Insurance Company, of Bloomington, Ill., is suing Robert J. Ross, Trafford, Pa.

On September 4, 1961, according to the declaration, Butts' car was being operated south on State Route 55 just west of State Route Marker 46 near Midland by a son, Gary Lee Butts.

The defendant drove his car onto the highway into the lane of Butts car forcing it to swerve off the road to avoid a collision, the declaration states.

Butts hit a guard rail and damaged the car extensively. The insurance firm paid the plaintiff the entire amount of the damage less $50.

In the third damage suit, Henry B. Liller, of Romney, W. Va., for his use and the use of the State Farm Mutual Automobile Insurance Company filed the court action against Boyd Browning, 224 North Mechanic Street.

On October 28, 1960, the plaintiff was traveling south on West Virginia Route 28 about two miles north of Fort Ashby and the defendant also headed south in his car hit the rear of the plaintiff's car which was pushed off the road into a guard rail.

Celanese Firm Grants Raise

ROCK HILL, S. C.—The Celriver plant of Celanese Fibers Company and Local 1093, Textile Workers Union of America, AFL-CIO, have agreed on a new contract that provides a pay raise for workers.

The contract, which will be effective immediately, provides for a five cents an hour general wage increase now and a two per cent wage increase in March of 1963, a two per cent increase in March of 1964 and an expiration date of March 19, 1965.

Also included in the three-year contract package are one additional paid holiday, an increase in shift differential of one cent each on the second and third shifts, and an arrangement for funeral leave up to three days in the case of death in an employe's immediate family.

This year's additional holiday will be celebrated on October 31, but starting in 1963 and continuing thereafter, the new holiday will be George Washington's birthday.

The new shift differential will amount to six cents an hour for work performed on the second shift and 11 cents an hour for work performed on the third shift.

The value of the increased benefits to employes over the full three-year period is estimated to be worth approximately 15½ cents an hour.

Sports Car Race Ticket Sale Starts

The "Early Bird" sale of tickets to the Cumberland Sports Car Races got under way at a luncheon meeting yesterday of the Cumberland Lions Club.

Dr. Robert S. Zimmer and James E. McGarrah, co-chairmen, said the project will continue through Saturday, May 5.

This year's races, the tenth annual to be sponsored by the Lions Club and the Steel Cities Region of the Sports Car Club of America, will be staged May 11-13 at the Municipal Airport.

The co-chairmen of the "Early Bird" sale said the project offers local residents a chance to obtain tickets at half-price. Tickets, they continued, will be available from club members and at various stores in the business district.

Proceeds from the sports car races, which annually attracts top drivers from all sections of the country, are used to finance youth and welfare activities of the Cumberland Lions Foundation.

Dr. Zimmer and McGarrah said the early purchase of tickets is restricted to the Cumberland area, and that support of the endeavor means the continued financial success of the race program, and thereby continued support of Lions Club projects.

U.S. Cardinals Included

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Pope John XXIII announced Wednesday that Richard James Cardinal Cushing, archbishop of Boston and Joseph Cardinal Ritter, archbishop of St. Louis, will be included in the central preparatory commission for the forthcoming ecumenical council.

Burning Law Violations Result In Fine

77-Year-Old Man Draws Penalty

A 77-year-old local man who pleaded guilty last night to violation of two state burning regulations was fined $10 and $2 costs by Magistrate Thomas J. Barton in Cresaptown.

Brook Brodkin, senior forest supervisor, said L. C. Rexrode, 474 Baltimore Avenue, was fined $10 and $2 court costs on a charge of allowing a fire to escape to the land of another. He was fined $10 on a second charge of violating the open-air burning regulations but Magistrate Barton suspended this fine.

This was the first conviction in Allegany County this spring on burning violation charges. District Forester W. A. C. Irwin emphasized yesterday that the fire burning danger is at a critical point in Allegany County and elsewhere in Western Maryland.

Regulations In Effect

Open-air burning regulations apply within 200 feet of woodland or inflammable material that could ignite and carry fire to woodland outside the limits of incorporated towns.

During the months of March, April and May in Maryland open-air burning is not permitted except between 4 p. m. and midnight EST, except when the ground is covered with snow.

Burning after 4 p. m. must be done where there is a fire break at least 10 feet wide completely around the material to be burned, free of inflammable material. There also must be adequate personnel and equipment available to prevent the fire from escaping. There also must be at least one responsible person at the location until the last spark is out.

Warning Issued

The senior forest supervisor said Mr. Rexrode started a fire about half a mile southwest of Brant Road near Dan's Mountain about 10:30 a. m. Tuesday. In five or 10 minutes it was out of contral and volunteer firemen from Cresaptown and employes of the Department of Forests and Parks had to be called in to suppress the flames. They burned over about seven acres, the supervsior added.

L. D. Peterson of Luke, chairman of the Maryland Forest Industries Committee, last night added his sober warning of danger to Maryland's woodlands. Under spring conditions, before the woods have "greened up," one moment of carelessness can result in a forest fire that might destroy recreation, wildlife and watershed values of the forest and the timber crops which give livelihood to many citizens, Mr. Peterson said.

Poultrymen Meet At Court House

Dr. John L. Milligan, new associate professor in the Poultry Department of the University of Maryland, was here last night to give some advice to Allegany County's poultry growers. Pictured with Dr. Milligan, left to right, are Richard M. Stegmaier, chairman of the meeting; County Agent Joseph M. Steger, in whose office the session was held, and Parker D. Warnick, Lonaconing.

Solid Moon Rocket More Reliable, Two Firms Say

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two leading rocket manufacturers said Wednesday the reliability of rockets for manned flight to the moon could be definitely improved by the use of large solid propellant units for the booster or main stage.

They told the House Astronautics Subcommittee on Advanced Research and Technology that solid propellant burning now can be controlled so that an astronaut's takeoff would be just as gradual as with the liquid propellants now used.

The witnesses were Dr. Lyman G. Bonner, director of development for the Hercules Powder Co. Explosives dept., Wilmington, Del. and retired Air Force Gen. Donald L. Putt and Dr. Barnett R. Adelman, president and executive vice president, respectively, of United Technology Corp., Sunnyvale, Calif.

(Dr. Bonner formerly was stationed at Allegany Ballistics Laboratory near Cumberland, which is operated for the Navy by Hercules, and which does research and development in the solid propellant field.)

Asked by subcommittee chairman Victor Anfuso, D-N. Y., whether the high acceleration of a solid propellant rocket might not make that type unsuitable for manned missions, Bonner said this is a widely held misconception stemming from experience with the old Fourth of July firecracker.

Bonner said modern technology has demonstrated ability to control burning so as to provide a thrust well within the endurance of human beings.

Putt estimated that it would take three to four years, and about $250 million, to develop a solid propellant rocket motor 156 inches in diameter.

Bonner urged that the National Aeronautics and Space Administration defer its proposed commitment to the rendezvous technique for reaching the moon "until the potential for high thrust boost stages is much more nearly exhausted than it is today," in the rendezvous process the actual start to the moon would be from vehicles already in earth orbit.

"Emphasis now should be on the booster capable of delivering the lunar package in a single launch," Donner said, adding that this would require a unit capable of a thrust of 15 to 20 million pounds.

Herman Lewis Governor Of Moose Lodge

Herman V. Lewis recently was elected governor of Cumberland Lodge 271, Loyal Order of Moose.

Other officers are Albert E. Brant Jr., junior governor; Robert C. Keyser, prelate; John Angellatta, three-year trustee, and George J. Thomas, treasurer.

Several members of the lodge also were elected representatives to the national convention to be held in Atlanta June 30—July 5. They include Russell L. Minnicks, immediate past governor; Arthur C. Gellner, secretary, and Mr. Lewis.

The new officers will be installed by Mr. Minnicks April 25 at the lodge home on Paca Street.

The Moose announced that the annual membership drive will end June 30.

The next class will be initiated Saturday night by a degree team from Keyser, headed by William F. Miller. The class has been named in honor of Donald E. Lilya, a past governor who is being transferred to Tyler, Texas, by the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company.

Joseph K. McFarland, in charge of the lodge's Easter Lily Sale on April 21 for the Allegany County League for Crippled Children, announced that plans have been completed for the sale. Members of the Tri-Hi-Y clubs of Allegany and Fort Hill high school will assist the lodge.

New Fire Truck To Be Shipped This Friday

Police and Fire Commissioner Philmore Fleming has been advised yesterday that Cumberland's new fire truck will be shipped from the American LaFrance factory in Elmira, N. Y., Friday.

Delivery is expected next week on the 1,000-gallon triple combination pumper which will be assigned to East Side Fire Station.

Fire Chief Virgil Parker hailed the news that the new pumper will be here soon, saying it will provide all fire stations with modern fire fighting equipment.

West Side Fire Station has as its first-line equipment a 750-gallon Mack pumper purchased in 1950; South End, a 750-gallon Ahrens-Fox pumper bought in 1954, and Central Fire Company, a 1,250-gallon American LaFrance pumper purchased in 1958.

The ladder truck at Central Fire Company was purchased in 1949. It has since had a major overhaul which included a new and more powerful engine.

Ridgeley Residents To Discuss Club

A group of Ridgeley residents who are interested in forming a club for teen-agers will meet today at 7 p.m. in the City Building.

Representatives from the Ridgeley Rod and Gun Club, Knobley Mountain Post 136, American Legion, Ridgeley Fire Company and Ridgeley High School will attend. Other interested persons also are invited.

COLLECTION DAY TODAY

Mrs. Dove Re-elected

Mrs. Edward Dove was re-elected president of the Gephart School PTA this week.

Other officers include Harry Schweinsberg, vice president; Mrs. Doris Livengood, secretary, and Edwin Rice, treasurer.

Mrs. Dove announced at the meeting a bake sale will be held Friday at 7 p. m. in conjunction with the showing of the film, "Toby Tyler." Mrs. Gilbert Bowen is chairman of the sale, assisted by the homeroom mothers.

The PTA also was advised the annual "Fun Night" will be held June 1 on the school playground with June 2 as the alternate date in case of rain.

Robert E. Pence, supervisor of physical education for Allegany County, presented a demonstration of the physical fitness program being carried out in county schools and several pupils from the school took part in the program.

Fire Destroys Motor In Market

Volunteer firemen used an extinguisher to quench the fire which was reported about 3:30 p. m. About 15 of the volunteers reported to the fire hall across the street from the store, which was filled with smoke.

'Lean & Hungry' Poultry Urged By Specialist

Allegany County poultry growers were advised last night to concentrate on "lean and hungry" birds rather than pretty ones in attempting to make a profit off their flocks.

The advice came from Dr. James L. Milligan, poultry specialist at the University of Maryland, who spoke to some 25 poultry growers at the Court House.

Dr. Milligan stressed that this is an excellent area for poultry production and expressed a hope that more farmers in this county would enter the field.

The University of Maryland authority cited the need for an effective rat eradication program on the farm. He said that two rats and their offsprings can eat a ton of feed in a year. Feed is the big cost in poultry production.

Chamber Plans Business Education Day

Robert C. Petersen, manager of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce, and William A. Howard, chairman of the business education committee, visited Westminster Tuesday to observe that city's second annual business education program.

Plans are being developed to hold a business education day in Cumberland early next fall, and Mr. Petersen and Mr. Howard expect to attend programs in Hagerstown and Johnstown later on.

Business education day is a time when plants of business and industry are visited by teachers. The chief purpose of the program is to give the teachers as much insight as possible into the way business and industry operates. Covered are such items as purchasing, manufacturing, selling, administration, personnel, financing and advertising.

Implementation of the program locally will require complete support of the school board and school system, Mr. Petersen said. If the program succeeds it will give teachers a broader idea of the free enterprise system and a better idea as to the type of personnel required by local business and industry. It can help them turn out the best possible product to obtain local employment.

Mr. Petersen added that reports show that the program has been highly successful in many cities over the country.

Assistant Camp Supervisor Named

John Garvey, 39, has been appointed assistant supervisor of the Boys Forestry Camp at Lonaconing, according to David L. Curran, superintendent of forestry camps.

Mr. Garvey, who assumed his duties March 14, formerly was employed as a recreation and cottage supervisor at the Berkshire Farm, Canaan, N. Y., a private training school for delinquent boys.

Man Burned, Shed Ruined By Flames

Raymond Van Horn Hospitalized Here

A 75-year-old Brice Hollow Road man was admitted to Memorial Hospital yesterday suffering from second and third degree burns on his legs sustained in a fire which destroyed a shed, endangered a nearby stable, and scorched about an acre of his property.

Raymond Van Horn was reported in "pretty good" condition by attaches who said the man was admitted for observation.

He was taken to the local hospital by Joseph Evans, fire chief of the North Branch Volunteer Fire Company, which extinguished the fire, and Harry White, volunteer fireman and forest warden.

Mr. Van Horn apparently was burning trash when his trouser legs caught fire. He was burned on the right leg and ankle and lower left leg.

When firemen arrived he was giving himself first aid. The two men took him to the hospital while the volunteers fought the fire to keep it from spreading to a nearby stable and the man's home.

The volunteers got a call about 3 p. m. and traveled some seven miles to the burning area. They were on the scene about an hour and a half before quenching the flames.

College Board Adopts Philosophy, Objectives

A philosophy and objectives for the Allegany Community College were adopted by the college Board of Trustees Tuesday.

They were submitted to the Board of Trustees, which also functions as the County Board of Education, by Dr. Robert S. Zimmer, college president. The philisophy will be included in the college by-laws which also were adopted on a tentative basis Tuesday.

Philosophy

This institution is established as a community college for Allegany County and environs. The development of the program of the college has as its basis the following beliefs held by the Board of Trustees, the administration and the faculty.

We believe in democracy as a way of life, and in both the freedoms and obligations inherent in a democracy. We believe in preparation for active participation in a democracy;

We believe that education is a process by which certain objectives of society are reached.

Objectives

We pledge our efforts to develop and maintain Allegany Community College as a comprehensive two-year coeducational collegiate institution providing:

1. The first two years of collegiate education leading to the Associate in Arts degree for students planning to transfer to four-year colleges and universities.

2. Two years of pre-professional collegiate education leading to the Associate in Arts degree for students who expect to pursue professional curricula at a university.

Barrick Says Finan Delays S&L Actions

Claims Enforcement Has Slowed Down

By The Associated Press

The Democratic opponent of Atty. Gen. Thomas B. Finan claimed Wednesday that action against shaky savings and loan associations has been delayed purposely until after the May 15 primary.

"It is obvious," Samuel W. Barrick of Frederick stated while campaigning in Howard County, "that enforcement of the savings and loan regulatory law has slowed down particularly as far as Baltimore City is concerned."

Barrick claimed the administration headed by Gov. Tawes "does not want to move into Baltimore City for fear of losing political support there."

Only 2 In Baltimore

Until Wednesday, the state had sought court action against two savings and loan associations in Baltimore while moving against several in Prince Georges and Montgomery counties.

Barrick said "the attorney general is too busy campaigning and should spend more time at his desk." Mahoney had made a similar statement about Gov. Tawes last week.

Barrick, incumbent state senator from Frederick, claimed that if "Finan were really concerned about the vigorous enforcement of the savings and loan law, he would have asked the legislature during the last session for additional personnel to help speed up these investigations.

"But he did not.

"If the attorney general is waiting until after the primary to crack down on shaky firms, he is doing a great disservice to the people of Maryland."

Biggest Mahoney Issue

Barrick's statement was in line with an announcement made in January at a special news conference called by the Mahoney ticket. Members of the ticket said they would make savings and loan activities their major campaign issue.

At that time, their attack was based on the fact that Gov. Tawes had vetoed a regulatory bill in 1960. He subsequently named a commission to draft a more far-reaching bill that was passed last year. Enforcement is the responsibility of the Department of Taxation and Assessments.

Gov. Tawes and his slate of candidates were on the opposite side of Chesapeake Bay from Mahoney Wednesday. The governor's troupe was touring Queen Anne's County.

Mahoney Gets Endorsement Of Labor Unit

Members of the Western Maryland Central Labor Council last night voted unanimously to endorse George P. Mahoney for governor and Carlton Sickles for Congressman-at-large subject to the Democratic primary election on May 15.

They also voted unanimously to follow the state lead on the Republican governorship but did not endorse either Democratic group in the race for state senator, attorney general or comptroller.

A further endorsement of candidates on a state level will be made during a COPE (Committee on Political Education) meeting Friday at the Retail Clerks Building on Monument Street in Baltimore.

A general membership meeting of COPE will be held there at 1:30 p. m.

Planning to attend from the Western Maryland Central Labor Council are Joseph E. Mullenax, president; Andrew M. Lewis Jr., COPE director, and Joseph Burke, area vice president of the state AFL-CIO organization.

Last night's meeting was held at the Labor Temple on South Liberty Street.

They said a child had tossed a paper napkin on the electric stove, and when it caught fire it ignited the curtains. Mrs. Andrews doused the fire before the volunteers arrived shortly after 12:05 p.m. Assistant Fire Chief Leo Rice said 15 firemen went to the dwelling with a pumper.

Group Named To Study Mobile Homes

Will Suggest Rules On Farms

A six-member committee to draw up fair regulations for mobile homes on farms of Allegany County was appointed at the conclusion of a special meeting of the County Farm Bureau last night at the Baltimore Pike Fire Hall.

Some 75 persons attended the meeting last night at the fire hall. Attorney Earl E. Manges, who presided at the meeting, was designated to serve as chairman of the committee which will meet next Monday night at the home of A. M. Kight on Baltimore Pike.

Other committee members besides Mr. Manges and Mr. Kight are Charles S. Harvey, Theodore Stegmaier, Floyd Buser and James Twigg, president of the Farm Bureau.

This committee will report back to a general public meeting Friday, April 6, at 8 p.m. at the Baltimore Pike Fire Hall.

The County Planning and Zoning Commission has scheduled a public hearing at the Court House on the night of Monday, April 9, to consider amending the regulations on mobile homes on farms. Under the county's existing interim zoning ordinance there are restrictions on mobile homes in residence districts. They must have at least 500 square feet of floor area. There is no distinction in the ordinance for mobile homes on farms.

Among those attending last night's session were County Commissioners John J. Rowan and Louis V. Shinnamon, James G. Stevenson, clerk to the county commissioners, and Edward Habeeb, president of the Route 40 Association.

Local Hospitals Are Accredited

The two local hospitals are included on the list of accredited hospitals published by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals.

Memorial and Sacred Heart hospitals are among those accredited by the commision as of December 31, 1961. Also accredited was Garrett County Memorial Hospital, Oakland.

There are approximately 6,000 hospitals eligible for accreditation, but Dr. Kenneth B. Babcock, commission director, pointed out that the omission of a hospital from the list does not necessarily mean it failed to pass an accreditation survey. The accreditation program is a voluntary one and only those hospitals which request surveys are visted. Hospitals with less than 25 beds are not eligible.

Accreditation of a hospital, Dr. Babcock said, is a badge of recognition which the hospital can display to its community to prove that it conforms to high standards of patient care.
